DISPOSED OF MANY BILLS

State Senate Passed Three On Third Reading and the House Four

BUCKLIN'S LAND TAX BILL

An Extended Discussion of the Australian System Took Place In the Senate.

Special to the Gazette.

Denver, Feb. 12.—The two houses of the general assembly spent the day in work. In the senate the greater part of the day was spent in discussing senate bill No. 1, known as the Bucklin Australian land bill. The senate also passed three bills on third reading. The house passed four bill on third reading adopted nine adverse reports, referred three adverse reports back to the committees, passed two bills on second reading and was considering the third when it adjourned.

Before the morning session of the senate a caucus was held at which time 28 senators signified their willingness to support the Rush consolidation bill. This insures its passage in the senate. By unanimous consent Mr. Morris in the house withdrew his bill appropriating money for the funeral expenses of the late H. A. W. Tabor. The withdrawal was made at the request of Mrs. Tabor.

THE SENATE SESSION.

It was just 10:30 when the senate was called to order this morning. A number of petitions and memorials were received asking for the passage of certain bills. Senator Barela introduced two sets of resolution which paid high tribute to the career of William Gilpin, first governor of Colorado. A resolution providing for the appointment of a committee which shall make arrangements for the construction of a life size statue of the governor was adopted. Senator Barela filed a petition against the passage of the employers' liability bill. Senator Seldomridge's bill relating to kidnaping, was indefinitely postponed. The same subject was covered by senate bill No. 140 which has already passed the senate.

Mr. Seldomridge's trespassing bill and Mr. Moore's eight hour labor bill passed third reading.

The senate then went into committee of the whole for the purpose of considering Senator Bucklin's Australian land bill. Senator Bucklin entered upon a lengthy discussion of its purposes and the benefits to be derived from the bill. Senator Bucklin contended that it was not a party measure. The present system of taxation is not approved by any one. He offered his plan because it gave the people an opportunity of getting right on the present method of taxation and adopting something which would redound to the glory of the state. He contended that if the same was adopted the burden of taxes would be taken off labor and industry and put upon privileges and franchises granted by city councils, boards of supervisors, boards of county commissioners, boards of equalization, county boards and other rights granted by city, county or state. The senator continued his explanation through the greater portion of the afternoon. Senators Evans and Bareda spoke against the bill. Senator Bucklin answered each of their addresses.

THE HOUSE SESSION.

The house convened at exactly 10 o'clock this morning. A large part of the morning was spent in the consideration of committee reports and the proper referring of measure. The following bills passed third reading just before the noon recess:—By Mr. Garcia, fixing the terms of court in the Twelfth judicial district. Senator Mooney's bill appropriating $13,500 for the incidental expenses of the penitentiary and Mr. Bartels' bill relating to school book laws. Mr. Bartels' bill designating certain days as holidays for court procedure, etc., was also adopted.

There were 13 adverse reports under consideration. Of these nine were adopted, which forever killed the bills. Among those killed were Mr. Dickerman's bill giving police power to water commissioners, Mr. Cabey's bill regulating the manner of keeping and maintaining saloons; Mr. McLean's bill providing for the giving of transportation to shippers on all railway lines, Mr. McGuire's bill providing for the weighing of coal at the mines.

While in the committee of the whole Mr. Beaty's bill in relation to the creation of water districts was adopted. Mr. Martin's bill providing for the registration of election precincts included wholly or partially within cities of a greater population than 15,000 was then taken under consideration. Mr. Martin spoke in favor of the workings of his bill and was still talking when the committee arose.

Mrs. Heatza introduced a resolution this morning instructing the committee on rules to report a rule providing that constitutional amendment bills shall have precedence over all other bills, with the exception of revenue bills. Just before adjournment the following committee was appointed to draft resolutions upon the death of ex-Governor Robert W. Steele, Senators Adams and Clayton, Representatives Martin, Meredith and Sprague. The two houses then adjourned until 10 o'clock tomorrow morning.

DENVER AND RIO GRANDE

George Gould Bought Important Interest and Will Enter Directory.

New York, Feb. 12.—E. T. Jeffery, president of the Denver and Rio Grande railroad, who is now at the Holland house, this city, made the following statement today to a representative of the Associated Press, regarding the reports in circulation about his road:

"To set at rest the many rumors relating to the Denver and Rio Grande railway that have been current of late I wish to state that the controlling interest in the property has not been bought by any other railway company nor has its investment as a Colorado railway been in the slightest degree impaired by any recent changes that have taken place in the holdings of its securities.

"The great prosperity of the state of Colorado and its large increase in the output of the precious metals has attracted the attention of investors and capitalists, amongst them Mr. George J. Gould, who has purchased an important interest in Denver and Rio Grande, who will, on Thursday, enter its directory for the purpose of participating in the management of the property and in the further development of Colorado, with which he has long been personally identified. The policy of the management will be to strengthen and improve the railroad, furnish the best and best facilities for its patrons and to enlarge the system from time to time by branches and laterals as the business interests of the state may require. The policy that has heretofore governed Denver and Rio Grande management will continue not only in relation to the public and state at large but with all connecting lines with which it has heretofore had commercial relations.

MRS. NATION TO ADDRESS CHICAGO SALOON KEEPERS

Chicago, Feb. 12.—Mrs. Carrie Nation arrived in Chicago today and within 15 minutes after reaching the city she was facing a somewhat disapprobative audience gathered under the auspices of local W. C. T. U. in Willard hall.

On her trip to Chicago Mrs. Nation delivered a number of short addresses from the rear of the car. During the day a committee called upon Chief of Police Kipley and asked him to detail a strong force of detectives to await Mrs. Nation's arrival at the depot, declaring she would be in great danger from the mob that would be at the depot. The chief tried to laugh the matter off but the women were persistent and he finally relented sufficiently to promise one lone officer. Only a very small crowd was at the depot and the arrival of Mrs. Nation produced no excitement whatever. She entered her carriage at once and was driven to Willard hall, five squares distant. Here a small crowd assembled her. She talked strongly against the saloons and much enthusiasm was worked up.

Mrs. Nation denounced the sale of liquor in Chicago and asked all those who were in sympathy with her to go out and destroy the saloons as they were illegal no matter under what sort of laws they were allowed to exist.

"While in Chicago I will not attempt to smash any saloons," said Mrs. Nation, "but tomorrow, in company with two policemen, I intend to visit as many of those places as possible and will invite the saloon keepers to come to Willard hall to-morrow night and hear what I have to say about the wickedness of selling liquor. I will also visit Mayor Harrison and Chief of Police Kipley tomorrow morning and tell them what I think of city officials who will allow so many dives and low resorts to run as prevail in Chicago. If you can't get rid of these crime breeding places by peaceable means, why I say, use force. All you women and men who believe in God and our cause, arm yourselves and go out and smash every one of those 'hell holes' that you can find. Don't be afraid, the Lord is on our side and will take care of you no matter whether you get arrested or not."

Mrs. Nation will leave here tomorrow noon for Topeka to stand trial for joint smashing.

Before entering the hall Mrs. Nation declared that it was her intention to get the saloon keepers of Chicago together and talk to them. She was determined to do this, she said, if she was compelled to remain in Chicago a week in order to accomplish her purpose.

ALL QUIET AT TOPEKA.

Topeka, Kan., Feb. 12. The local liquor situation is practically unchanged today. The saloon men are keeping their heads under cover and their doors are securely locked. They apparently mean to keep them closed and preparations are being made to remove the bars and other fixtures.

Last night a few bars were moved from the joints and stored away. All the bartenders are out of work and the jointists are standing around talking it over. The majority of the joints have been closed since Thursday and the beer wagons have stopped their usual rounds.

"I think that all the joints were closed last night," said Chief Stahl today. "All that I called were quiet. I did not go across the river. There was talk that one or two were running, but if they were they were upstairs and not where they could be easily found. The committee seems to be well pleased and thinks that the jointists are thoroughly cowed and will stop. The people do not let me in on all the news and I don't get anything definite but I think I have a better chance to know what is going on than some people and I believe there is an organization of from 500 to 1,000 persons with officers from colonel down to corporal, ready to move on the joints if they do not close up. What that organization will do I cannot say."

Joplin, Mo., Feb. 12.—Johnson and O'Neal who have been held in this city several days suspected of complicity in the Cudahy kidnaping case, were today identified as the men who had killed the marshal while robbing a bank at Bronough, Mo., Vernon county, several months ago. At the time of the robbery the marshal's daughter saw the two men through a window. She today positively identified Johnson and O'Neal as the men who had killed her father. At the time of the robbery $16,000 was taken and $20,000 was destroyed by the explosion that wrecked the safe. When arrested here the men carried several thousand dollars in gold. They were taken to Nevada today for trial.

THE LINCOLN DAY BANQUET

Of the Loyal Legion the Chief Event Of the Celebration In Denver

AN EXCELLENT PROGRAMME

Particularly Notable Addresses Delivered by Henry McAllister, Jr. and Dr. Thomas E. Green.

Special to the Gazette.

Denver, Feb. 12.—The chief event of Lincoln day in Denver was the banquet given by the Loyal Legion at the Windsor hotel tonight. The attendance was the largest ever had in any of their annual dinners. About 250 people were present, a number of them from Colorado Springs and other places outside of Denver. The programme was as follows:

THE TOASTS.

Toastmaster—Major S. K. Hooper.
To the President and the Flag.....
(To be drunk in silence.)
America.....
By Audience, Led by Apollo Club Quartette.
Oration—"Lincoln an Inspiration for the Future".....
Henry McAllister, Jr., Colorado Springs.
Selection.....
Apollo Club Quartette.
Recitation—"The Soldier Dead".....
Thomas Pollock.
"Rally Round the Flag".....
Entire Audience.
Oration—"Abraham Lincoln".....
Dr. Thomas E. Green, Penal Bards, Ia.
Selection.....
Apollo Club Quartette.

Entire Audience.

The addresses were all good but those of Henry McAllister, Jr., of Colorado Springs, and Dr. Green of Cedar Rapids, Iowa, were scholarly and splendid orations.

Mr. McAllister's address captured the audience. It was thoroughly prepared and splendidly delivered and pronounced by every one present the finest oration ever delivered before the Loyal Legion of this city. Dr. Green's oration on Lincoln was replete with eloquence, pathos and patriotism. He spoke for nearly an hour and his audience did not lose a single word. It was a powerful address. Dr. Green has the reputation of being one of the greatest pulpit orators in this country and he did not detract from that reputation in his effort tonight.

The greatest enthusiasm prevailed throughout the programme and at its conclusion the entire audience arose and joining hands sang "Auld Lang Syne."

Previous to the banquet a reception was given by Commander Major S. K. Hooper and wife of Denver, Senior Vice Commander Edgar E. Enslen and wife of Colorado Springs, and Junior Vice Judge O. B. Liddell and wife of Denver.

OBSERVANCE OF THE DAY THROUGHOUT THE COUNTRY

New York, Feb. 12.—The Republican club of the city of New York gave a banquet tonight at the Waldorf-Astoria, in honor of Abraham Lincoln's memory. General Henry E. Tremain presided. Among those at the guests table were Cornelius N. Bliss, Whitelaw Reid, Senator J. M. Thurston, Senator Depew, Senator Joseph H. Burton of Kansas, Judge John W. Baldwin of Nebraska, Senator Hanna, Attorney General John W. Griggs, Senator N. B. Scott and Senator Edmund T. Bartlett. While the dinner was served in the large hall room, another dinner was being served to about 75 women, invited guests of members of the club.

[illegible] were given an ovation on entering the hall.

A letter of regret from Robert T. Lincoln was received and General Tremain introduced Judge John W. Baldwin as the orator of the evening.

Judge Baldwin referred to the last national campaign and ridiculed the Democratic party for its part in it. Continuing he said:

"That such a party with such a leader and with just simplicity enough to pretend, and just truth enough to deceive, could thus be sanctioned by so large a proportion of the American people, almost passes belief."

"The poor, the discontented and distressed can safely leave their cause in the hands of those who would endeavor at least to determine it according to the principles of Abraham Lincoln."

Senator Hanna received a tumultuous ovation as he arose to respond to the toast "The Business Man in Politics." He said in part:

"Politics is business and very severe business at that. The influence of the business man in politics is more far reaching than one would at first imagine. The great mass of workingmen who are the employes of capital would a great influence either for good or evil as they are made to see things. It is the duty of the business man of America to show that great class the most powerful because of its numbers—that we do not discriminate between classes, but that we have their welfare at heart. Then we have no fear when it comes to an issue between Republicanism and socialism."

Senator Depew spoke informally, saying among other things:

"We can thank God and take courage for the solution of the problems that are before us, that in dealing with Cuba, Puerto Rico, Hawaii and the Philippines, in extending the advantages of our institutions and increasing our national power and opportunities for our people we hold four years and have now in the presidential campaign of Marshall and of the party of Lincoln, an equally great statesman, thoroughly imbued with the principles which have made our country great and strong and prosperous."

Whitelaw Reid spoke to the toast "Our New Possessions."—He said, speaking of Cuba:

"There is no eagerness to annex the island, there is a dread of such a connection, lest it lead to statehood and so prove the entering wedge for a transformation of our continental republic which would inevitably work its ruin. But the duty of protection remains.

"As to the other islands, people will disagree, but to make no difference [illegible] conscientious disagreement is impossible, is the duty of the United States to bear the responsibility of its own acts.

"Count the cost and danger of our present position as enormous as you please, it will all be cheap to us still and fortunate if only to teach us henceforth to distrust the swashbuckler and the tall twister in international politics, to avoid meddling in other peoples affairs and becoming heated partisans on either side in other peoples quarrels."

Hugh Gordon Miller responded to the toast—"The New South." He paid a tribute to President McKinley and said that young America was with him in unbroken ranks.

Senator-elect John R. Burton replied to the toast, "The Republican Party." He became ill on his way here from Washington and had to retire to his room at the Waldorf. His remarks were very brief.

Senator Thurston, who spoke briefly, said that America would follow in the footsteps of Abraham Lincoln until freedom was established all over the earth.

AT BOSTON.

Boston, Feb. 12.—The memory of Lincoln was honored by a feast of song, wit and sentiment at the celebration of the Middlesex club at Hotel Brunswick tonight. The speakers were Hon. Joseph Quarles, United States senator from Wisconsin; Hon. H. E. Burnham, United States senator-elect from New Hampshire; Hon. C. F. Warwick, of Philadelphia; Hon. H. J. Hoge of Virginia, and Hon. D. J. Foster, of Vermont.

AT PORTLAND, MAINE.

Portland, Me., Feb. 12.—The annual banquet of the Lincoln club of Portland was attended by over 500 prominent Republicans from all parts of the state. The principal speaker, Congressman Chester I. Long of Kansas, was given an enthusiastic reception. He spoke strongly in favor of the subsidy bill and paid also an eloquent tribute to Lincoln.

BRYAN THE SPEAKER AT COLUMBUS DOLLAR DINNER

Columbus, Ohio, Feb. 12.—Lincoln day was celebrated here tonight by the Jefferson, Jackson and Lincoln league with a dollar dinner at the Columbus auditorium. There were fully 1,500 persons seated at the tables which occupied the floor of the immense hall and 1,000 more were seated in the galleries, thrown open to spectators. Many ladies were among those at the tables. There were no cigars and no beverages stronger than coffee.

The feature of the evening was the demonstration in honor of W. J. Bryan. The Nebraskan was received with loud applause when he entered the hall, but the crowd fairly went wild when Mr. Bryan was introduced to speak. Men climbed upon chairs and cheered again and again and it was some minutes before the noise subsided. Congressman Lentz, acting as toastmaster, introduced Mr. Bryan.

"The last time," said Mr. Lentz, "I had the pleasure of introducing Mr. Bryan to you, I introduced him to you as the next president of the United States. I again introduce him to you as I did then."

Following is an abstract of Mr. Bryan's speech:

"Never has this nation been more in need than it is today of an earnest and thorough revival of Jeffersonian principles. While other statesmen, appearing at different crises and meeting the responsibilities of their respective times, have made partial application of Democratic principles, Jefferson is the only one who formulated a Democratic code applicable to all times, all situations and all people.

"At this time when the money changers are in absolute control of the government and are shaping the nation's financial policy in their own interests without regard for the welfare of the people at large, we need to recall Jefferson's scathing arraignment of those who demand the surrender into their hands of the sovereign functions of government."

He pointed out that the policy of the people lay in a policy that would drive the banks out of the governing business.

"At this time, when corporate monopoly is fast extinguishing industrial independence, we need a revival of the Jeffersonian spirit, which demands a government administered according to the doctrine of equal rights to all and special privileges to none. At this time when commercialism is [illegible] the conscience of the nation, when the worship of mammon is leading the people to ignore inalienable rights; when the ideals bought with blood and sacrifice are to be bartered away for the specious and delusive promises of empire—at this time, I repeat, we need to have our faith in man as man and our love for man as brother rekindled by the memory of this mighty patriot, philosopher and Democrat, whose brain comprehended the height and depth and breadth of government and whose heart embraced the human race."

Senators Pettigrew and Carmack failed to respond to toasts set for them. The latter's speech on Jefferson and Lincoln was read by Congressman Shattuck of Colorado. Other speakers and their toasts were:

"Our Duty," Hon. David A. De Armond of Missouri.

"Jackson," Hon. John P. Altgeld of Illinois.

"Lincoln," Hon. Charles Towne, of Minnesota.

This afternoon a conference was held to consider a proposition to enlarge the scope of the Jefferson, Jackson and Lincoln league which has up to this time been a purely local organization. About 300 Democrats, the greater portion of whom were from Ohio, were in attendance. There were representatives also from Pennsylvania, West Virginia, Indiana, Illinois, Michigan, Minnesota and Massachusetts. Congressman Lentz acted as chairman of the conference. He said it had been suggested that the league be re-organized along state or national lines and invited the views of those present. Willis J. Abbott suggested that a committee of five be appointed on constitution to amend the present instrument so that it would apply to a state and national organization and a motion to that effect was adopted. It was agreed that the next meeting should be in Buffalo, during the Pan-American exposition, and it was decided to appoint a committee representing each state in the organization to have charge of the Buffalo meeting.

HAMILTON TRIAL

Minneapolis, Minn., Feb. 12.—The prosecution in the Hamilton murder case rested today after introducing the sensational testimony of Officer Thomas J. Rooney who testified that Hamilton said to him when he was arrested:

"I will go with you. I am prepared to take the consequences. Let the law take its course. I killed him, but I did it in self defense." Hamilton listened to the statement with a perfectly impassive face. Rooney's evidence related to the conversation with Hamilton on the way from the West hotel to the police station.

Every effort is being made to have A. M. Barbee, the St. Louis traveling man brought here to testify. His evidence is said to be of the highest importance to the defense. Hamilton, it is said will take the stand and give his version of the fight that ended in Day's death.

After court adjourned there was an impulsive movement toward Hamilton, men vying with women to shake his hand and utter the hope that he would be able to prove his innocence.

CHINESE SITUATION

Peking, Feb. 12.—Prince Ching and Li Hung Chang have received a long dispatch from the court which they have not disclosed to the foreign envoys. It is understood in addition to the recent celebrated reform decree an account of how Emperor Kwang Su has sent a choice of methods of suicide to all those named for punishment by the envoys, closing with the inquiry whether Prince Ching and Li Hung Chang think the envoys will be satisfied.

It is understood that the Chinese plenipotentiaries in their reply to the court said the foreign envoys could not object strongly to an accomplished fact but that they would probably insist upon the sentence of execution being published throughout the empire and possibly upon the heads of those condemned being exhibited at various points.

It is very seriously doubted in Chinese circles here that General Tung Fu Hsiang will agree to commit suicide. The army worships him. He has absolute control of the Mohammedans and is believed to be one himself. He refused to allow the disbandment of 5,000 men and the emperor ordered him far from the court. To attempt his execution, it is thought in Chinese circles, might mean civil war.

MARCONI'S FEAT

Perfect Telegraphic Communication Without Wires Between Points 200 Miles Apart.

London, Feb. 12.—Prof. John Fleming, lecturing at Liverpool yesterday, said he had Signor Marconi's permission to make the first mention of the fact that on the first day of the reign of King Edward VII, Marconi accomplished the astonishing feat of sending wireless messages between St. Catherine's, Isle of Wight, and The Lizard, 200 miles.

Perfect communication between the two points has since been established.

A ROYAL VISIT

King Edward and Queen Alexandra will Go to See the Dowager Empress Frederick

London, Feb. 12.—King Edward and Queen Alexandra, according to Truth, will leave England during March to visit Dowager Empress Frederick. As already cabled, they will also visit the Grand Duke and Grand Duchess of Hesse, and will spend the Easter holidays at Copenhagen. Truth asserts that a member of the cabinet, probably Lord James of Hereford, will accompany the king. A special edition of the Gazette announced that by the king's demand a special statute under the seal of the Order of the Garter shall be issued, conferring upon the queen the title of Lady of that most noble order. Lord Roberts' title is gazetted as "Viscount St. Pierre and Earl of Candahar and Pretoria."

Berlin, Feb. 12. Rumors are current here today that the condition of the Dowager Empress Frederick is growing worse and that her heart is not performing its functions normally. The correspondent of the Associated Press, however, was not able to obtain any confirmation of such reports.

BOYS WITH GOLD.

Kansas City, Feb. 12. Clarence Gordon and Roy Riley, aged 16 and 15 respectively, were arrested in this city tonight and $870 in gold was found in a [illegible] bag around Gordon's waist. The boys say that they saw two men [illegible] the night of February 3 in Terra Haute, Ind., at a point where the Vandalia line crosses the Wabash river. After the men departed they dug up the money which was in gold and in a bag. Gordon says his home is in Indiana and Riley says he lives in New York. They will be held pending investigation.

A FRONTIERSMAN DEAD.

Mattoon, Ill., Feb. 12.—Mitchell Reed, 90 years of age, a pioneer resident of Effingham county, is dead at Elliottstown. He was a native of Knox county, Tenn. When sixteen years old his parents took him to Jackson's purchase in the Cherokee nation, and he grew up among the savages, becoming a trader and intimate of Davy Crockett, the noted frontiersman. Reed came to Illinois in 1836.

BANQUET OF REPUBLICANS

Under Auspices of the Advisory Board of the State Central Committee

PARTY IS LINED UP TO WIN

An Elaborate Menu Followed by a Most Enjoyable Programme—Officers of the Board.

Special to the Gazette.

Denver, Feb. 12.—The Advisory Board of the Republican State Central Committee was organized at the beginning of the present year to assist the state committee in its work, and also as a method for raising funds for the state committee between campaigns. It is an adjunct to that committee and the state chairman is the head of the advisory board. It now has a membership of about 400. The initiation fee is $10. This advisory board working in conjunction with the state committee, and the Republican Club of Colorado working independently, should be able to enlist the interest of all classes of Republicans of the state. The Republicans fully realize that they have to gain some 20,000 votes before they can carry the state, and there is a disposition in all sections to organize thoroughly for the state campaign in 1902. The utmost harmony prevails in the party, and the efforts of these several organizations to arouse the Republicans of the state to make converts to the cause are commendable and are receiving the loyal support of leading Republicans everywhere.

Previous to the banquet given tonight the following officers of the advisory board were elected:

Vice Chairman, Robt. W. Bonynge; second vice chairman, Louis Tritch; treasurer, Wm. Cooke Daniels; executive committee, A. M. Stevenson, Arapahoe county; F. C. Goudy, Arapahoe county; Chas. Hartzell, Arapahoe County; Geo. W. Bailey, Larimer county; M. Z. Farwell, Otero county; A. R. King, Delta county; F. E. Brooks, El Paso county.

THE BANQUET.

The first annual banquet under the auspices of the advisory board, in commemoration of Lincoln's birthday, was held in the ordinary at the Brown hotel this evening. The banquet was a success from its beginning to its end. There were about 235 present.

Among those present were many of the leaders of the Republican party from over the state as follows: W. H. Brisbane, postmaster at Leadville; J. A. Layton, register of the land office at Montrose; D. C. Bailey of Denver, Dr. [illegible] postmaster at Ouray; Melvin Edwards of Denver, Frank Howbert of Denver, L. C. Dana, postmaster at Colorado Springs; Mayor J. R. Robinson of Colorado Springs, C. D. Ford, chairman of the state central committee, of Denver, John C. Twombly of Denver, Edward Price, postmaster at Grand Junction; Fred Alfred of Pueblo and others.

The room was beautifully decorated with the American colors and flowers, while pictures of prominent Republicans were hung in conspicuous places on the walls.

During the banquet the following telegram was received and read:

Washington, D. C., Feb. 12, 1901.
Hon. C. D. Ford:

We regret extremely that we cannot attend the banquet of your club on Lincoln's birthday as public duties require our presence here. We congratulate you on the splendid contest for Republican principles which was carried on in Colorado last fall and we feel certain that you will continue the struggle until your state again returns to the Republican fold.

J. B. Foraker,
Wm. P. Frye,
M. A. Hanna.

A message was also received from Senator Wolcott expressing his regrets at not being able to be present. The messages were received with prolonged applause.

RIOTING IS LIKELY TO TAKE PLACE IN MADRID

Madrid, Feb. 12. Whispered rumors, which are not supported by tangible facts, say that Madrid is on the verge of a tumult. The government, however, is calmly proceeding to carry out the details for the wedding of the Princess of the Asturias to Prince Charles of Bourbon, but the street corners, the clubs and the hotel corridors teem with disturbing stories.

The most serious sign [illegible] is the most serious sign. Should it take real hold on the people and should the fever reach the army itself, the outcome would be threatening. The current talk represents the army as being dissatisfied and as announcing that it does not intend to take up arms against the people so long as their opposition is directed against the Jesuits and the Count of Caserta. The feeling against the former is largely political but a real deep seated antagonism exists against the former Carlist leader.

The decision of the high court today favoring the contention of the mother in the Ubao case, giving the daughter into her charge and releasing her from the convent, is likely to have a soothing effect.

Another step in the marriage ceremony occurs at the palace tonight at 9 o'clock, when the formal contract will be signed. The Duke of Sotomayer, the grand chamberlain, has extended an invitation to the ministry to be among the witnesses. Besides the royal party, the ministry and the palace officials and the witnesses, no others will be present. All the parties to the wedding are domiciled in the royal palace. They there are not obliged to expose themselves to the public, the wedding occurring within the chapel of the palace itself at 11 o'clock Thursday morning.

Up to the present the city is perfectly calm.

The signing of the civil contract in connection with the wedding at the palace tonight, was a simple ceremony and was witnessed by only the members of the royal family, the court officials, the ministry, the Count of Caserta and his family, and the chosen legal witnesses of each party. There were no invited guests. At 9 o'clock the assemblage gathered in the queen regents' reception room in which had been placed a table containing writing materials. The regent entered, escorted by court attendants and followed by the Infantas Isabel, Eulalia and Maria Teresa, the Princess of Asturias, Prince Charles of Bourbon, the Count and Countess of Caserta and their three daughters, the Duke and Duchess of Calabria, Prince Gennaro, younger brother of the Count of Caserta, the suite of the Count of Caserta, consisting of Prince Bella Rocca and Marquis Imperiale, all members of the cabinet, Generals Weyler, Echague, Bernal and Azura, chosen as witnesses for the bridegroom. When all arrived Marquis del Vadillo, minister of justice, acting as a notary public for the government, read the document and announced the formality to be that of signing it. The Princess of the Asturias first signed it, using her full legal name, Prince Charles of Bourbon followed and then the queen regent, the members of the cabinet and the generals who witnessed the instrument on behalf of the prince. When all the signatures had been appended the minister of justice placed his seal upon the document and the ceremony was ended. The document will be published tomorrow in the official Gazette.

PROGRAMME OF CEREMONY IN THE HOUSE OF LORDS

London, Feb. 12.—King Edward has sanctioned the official programme of the ceremony to be observed in the house of lords Thursday. The great officers of state and others will assemble at the entrance of the house of lords. The king will alight from the state carriage and the procession will move to the robing room as follows:

Pursuivants, heralds, the king's equerries, gentlemen ushers, grooms in waiting and officers of the household, flanked by the sergeants at arms; the lord of the privy seal, the lord high chancellor, the black rod, the garter king of arms, the earl marshal, the lord great chamberlain, the sword of state, carried by the Marquis of Londonderry, the king and queen, respectively attended by the master of the horse, the lord steward and the lords and ladies in waiting, followed by the pages of honor, the captain of the yeomen of the guard, gold stick, the captain of the gentlemen of arms; silver stick in waiting, the field officers in waiting, with officers, gentlemen at arms and yeomen of the guard closing the procession.

After the king is robed he, with the Duke of Devonshire, (Lord president of the Council), carrying the imperial crown, will advance to the house of peers, the cap of maintenance being borne before the king on the right hand of the sword of state.

When the king is seated on the throne, the Duke of Devonshire, bearing the cap of maintenance, will stand on the steps of the throne. On the right of the king will be the Marquis of Londonderry with the sword of the household; on the left will be the lord steward. The other officers of the household will arrange themselves on each side of the throne in the rear of the great officers of state.

When the king retires the procession will return to the robing room and thence to the state carriage in the same order.

RICHARDSON MURDER.

St. Joseph, Mo., Feb. 12.—It is stated here on apparently good authority that the Savannah murder mystery is at an end and that the grand jury now in session will not indict any one for the killing of Frank Richardson, the millionaire merchant. Mrs. Richardson moved here recently after being bound over to the grand jury on a charge of having guilty knowledge of this murder.

Some Direct Evidence Developed Against Captain Martyn

GAMBLING HOUSE RAKE-OFF

Three Witnesses Testified That the Captain Received 10 Per Cent of the Profits of the House

Denver Bureau
Colorado Springs Gazette

Denver Feb 12.—The fire and police board resumed its inquiry shortly after 10 o'clock this morning into the charges of corruption against Chief of Police Thomas Speer. The session was confined to specific cases resulting from testimony based on 10 doors secured during the last days session. During the morning three witnesses testified that Police Captain Martyn received ten per cent of the earnings of Dan Hickey's gambling house at 1851 Larimer street. Parsons testified that he had personally delivered money but that it had been told by Mr Macklin that Captain Martyn had held him up for $100 and a gold ring. Mr Tammen of the Post was called and was asked to give what knowledge he had on the subject under investigation. He said he did not have any but that he knew of a number of stories and romances which might enable the police to get some good evidence. He then gave the names of a number of people who had told him of different stories of grafting. Frank J. Malone testified that Captain Martyn had received ten per cent of the returns from Dan Hickey's gambling house. He said that the bookkeeper showed him the books of the concern which showed Martyn's receipts. C. T. Dixson the next witness testified that he had been bookkeeper for Hickey's gambling house. He testified that C. E. M. received ten per cent of the proceeds of the house that Hickey told him C. P. M. stood for Captain Martyn. Fred Koch also testified that Martyn received ten per cent of the Hickey gambling house receipts.

Misunderstanding Regarding Six O'clock Closing

MERCHANTS ARE INDIGNANT

They Think That Their Cripple Creek Competitors Did Not Play Fair Amicitia Club

Victor Bureau
Colorado Springs Gazette

Victor Feb 12—There seems to be a misunderstanding relative to the 6 o'clock closing resolution recently passed by the Cripple Creek District Trades and Labor Council. The resolution stated that the stores of the district would remain open until 6 o'clock on Saturday nights and pay day night. The stores of this city remained open last night but closed tonight. The merchants of this city are indignant because the stores of Cripple Creek remain open until 8 o'clock tonight. The merchants of Cripple Creek probably understood the resolution to read that they would be allowed to remain open two pay days a month. The matter will be settled at the next meeting of the Trades assembly.

The hop given at the Amicitia club in the Armory hall tonight was a great success. Although but recently organized this club is now the most popular in the district. Society people from all parts of the camp attended tonight and the affair proved to be a great success.

REPORTS FROM GUAM.

Gradual Recovery From the Disastrous Hurricane

Washington Feb. 12.—A report has been received at the navy department from Rear Admiral Kempff of the Asiatic station who was sent from Manila to Guam to investigate the effects of the disastrous hurricane a few months ago. The report covers details already made public and concludes as follows:

In regard to the loss of the Yosemite the vessel now appears to have struck a shoal spot while dragging from her original anchorage to the reef under the bluff west of Sumay causing a heavy leak. Here the vessel struck stern first. When the wind shifted suddenly from north to west the Yosemite swung around [illegible] vessel grounded [illegible] losing ground tackle and being blown off the reef near Sumay bluff.

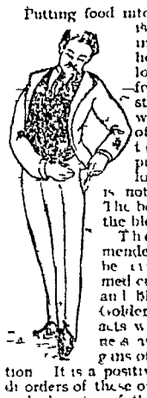
Putting food into a diseased stomach is like putting money into a pocket with holes. The money is lost. All its value goes for nothing. When the stomach is diseased, with the allied organs of digestion and nutrition the food which is put into it is largely lost. The nutriment is not extracted from it. The body is weakened and the blood impoverished.



The pocket can be mended. The stomach can be cured. That sterling medicine for the stomach and blood Doctor Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery, acts with peculiar promptness and power on the organs of digestion and nutrition. It is a positive cure for almost all disorders of these organs, and cures also such diseases of the heart, blood, liver and other organs as have their cause in a weak or diseased condition of the stomach.

There is no alcohol or other intoxicant contained in Golden Medical Discovery.

Dangerous Fire in Basement of the Downey Building

MINING TAX HEARING DELAY

Postponed Until End of the Month Case of the People vs. McCulloch on Trial in District Court

Cripple Creek Bureau
Colorado Springs Gazette

Cripple Creek Feb. 12—Yesterday afternoon the flames of the department did about $400 worth of damage to the stock of the Palace Pharmacy and about $100 damage to the building [illegible] evening at 7:30 o'clock. In trying to extinguish the flames W. W. Fichtenman the proprietor and one of the clerks of the drug store suffered severe burns on the face and hands. The fire started in the basement of the Downey building the upper floor of which is occupied by the Roberts Bros. grocery and the basement sublet to the Palace pharmacy which occupies the Palace building next door. One of the drug clerks went to the basement with a lamp to draw some wood alcohol from the large tank in which it is kept. The lamp was close to the tank and the vapor from the alcohol burst into flames. The clerk was [illegible] and called for help. Mr. Beltzman responded and made an unsuccessful fight with a small fire extinguisher. The [illegible] was summoned but the dense smoke and the fear of exploding chemicals greatly handicapped them in their work. A large crowd congregated in front of the Downey building and two small explosions sent them scattering in all directions. After about twenty minutes work the flames were extinguished. The fire was confined to the basement of the Downey building. The entire loss is covered by insurance.

The county commissioners returned from Denver this morning where they went for the purpose of securing the appointment of an adjuster to settle the matter relative to a division of the El Paso county court house and poor house funds a part of which is due Teller county from taxes paid previous to the division of El Paso county. County Attorney Bragaw is still in Denver and will try to secure the appointment. The commissioners while in Denver talked with the committee on ways and means of the legislature relative to the division of mining property in Teller county.

Mining Hearing Postponed.

The day set for the hearing of arguments in the matter of the taxing [illegible] has been postponed. The hearing of the petitions of the mine owners relative to the reduction in the assessed valuation of non-productive mining property for 1900 was set for February 28 but this has been postponed until one of the last four days in February. The committee have given no reason for the postponement.

The case of the People vs. McCulloch was on trial in the district court this forenoon. Jess Cunningham. The case this afternoon was postponed during the [illegible] Attorney Bragaw was taken until tomorrow morning. ## A Tucson Stockman Held Up Near the Union Depot

SUSPECTS UNDER ARREST

Coroner's Jury in Allen Case Unable to Determine Whether Shooting Was Justifiable

Pueblo Bureau
Colorado Springs Gazette

Pueblo Feb. 12.—William Codat a stockman from Tucson Arizona was the victim of a daylight hold-up at 1:30 this afternoon. The daring robbery took place in the rear of Nardini's saloon opposite the Union depot. Codat claims he was confronted by two men who demanded his money as he was passing along the street upon his failure to comply they knocked him down and [illegible] gate in a fence in the rear of the saloon where they search him. He reported the matter to the police and then took a train for Arizona. Antonio Mueller and Scott Miller were arrested soon after by deputy sheriffs charged with the robbery. Codat, who is an old man has been in Pueblo for several days and became acquainted with one of the men who is charged with the hold up. Codat also reported to the police that his watch and ring had been stolen from him but the [illegible] claim that they pawned the jewelry at the old man's request. Codat was expecting $100 only and the hold-ups probably thought he had received it.

James Hudgins a negro is under arrest charged with impersonating an officer. It is said that he went to Ike Cardillo's saloon on Main street and said that he was a deputy sheriff from Colorado Springs and had come to Pueblo to get married. He borrowed a dress pattern from a dressmaker on the statement that he wished to show it to his prospective bride before purchasing it.

Coroner's Verdict.

After examining a large number of witnesses and securing a story that differed in no way from that published in the papers, the coroner's jury which has been holding an inquest into the death of David Allen, who was killed by William Campbell Saturday night returned a verdict this evening. They found that Allen had come to his death from gun shot wounds inflicted by Campbell and closed with the surprising statement. From the evidence we the jury are unable to determine whether the killing was justifiable or with felonious intent. Among the witnesses who testified was H. M. Morse a veteran gunsmith who had made an expert examination of the gun found in Dave Allen's hand and who said that in his opinion the two empty chambers in the gun had been discharged some time ago confirming the theory that Campbell did all the shooting. A telegram from Fulton Mo. today announced that the funeral of the dead man took place there this morning. The condition of Arthur Allen who was wounded at the same time his brother was killed is very much improved and unless complications set in he will recover. An afternoon paper published an alleged special from Colorado Springs to the effect that Campbell had been taken from the jail there and is in a country farm house. Sheriff Beaman communicated with the Springs and learned that the report was untrue.

Autopsy Fruitless

The physicians who held the autopsy over the remains of Mary Thomas which were exhumed yesterday by order of the court, reported to Judge Voorhees this morning that they had been unable to determine whether the bullet had caused the woman's death. They said that the bullet had struck her in the back of the neck and [illegible] the mouth without striking any bones and leaving no evidence as it had been lead or steel. It was expected that the autopsy would show conclusively the guilt or innocence of Joel Thomas who is charged with the murder of his wife.

Interests of the city held a meeting tonight in division B of the district court room at the court house and took preliminary steps towards the formation of a bar association. The movement has its inception in the Marshall day exercises held a short time ago when Judge Dixon suggested the formation of some organization that would unite the legal fraternity into closer relationships. W. B. Vaile T. H. Devine A. W. Arrington S. H. White and H. E. Briggs were appointed a committee to draw up a constitution and another meeting will be held in two weeks.

The Hickey [illegible] baseball league will be in Pueblo tomorrow and it is expected that he will finally determine whether or not Pueblo is to have a team this season. William Hulen owner of the Pueblo franchise claims that his plans for grounds are completed and that his prospects for maintaining a team here are the best.

A meeting of the Pueblo State Fair association was to have been held tonight and final selection of a site for fair grounds made. Although Secretary F. G. Middlekamp had several propositions for a site to be considered only a few of the directors showed up and the meeting was postponed.

Farmers of the Arkansas valley will hold a meeting Thursday morning at 9 o'clock in the office of Superintendent of Irrigation E. B. Chew for the purpose of organizing the Arkansas Valley Ditch Association. They will discuss and probably take action on several bills relative to irrigation now before the legislature.

Lucy Lugton has been arrested at Lake City on a writ of attachment issued out of the district court and will be brought to Pueblo by Deputy Sheriff Shurtz tomorrow. She is said to be one of the wives of Thomas Steeley a Pueblo expressman who is soon to be tried on the charge of bigamy. A subpoena was served on her by the sheriff of Lake City some time ago but she said that she had no funds and would be unable to answer it. Sheriff Beaman mailed her his personal check for $20 but even then she declined to appear causing the issuance of the attachment. It is said that the Lugton woman left Steeley some years ago because he did not support her and that she does not care especially about appearing against him.

Insurance Adjusters.

Local insurance men express indignation at the alleged action of the adjusters who met here the Chief with fire in appointing a committee to investigate the Pueblo fire department. They claim that the adjusters have no grounds for such action and that their investigation is not likely to have any weight with their companies. ## Amusements

OPERA HOUSE ATTRACTION TONIGHT

A lively farce comedy will be presented at the Opera house this evening Mr Daughters Husband with Dan Sherman in Old Dan Tucker was constructed for laughing purposes and how well it has succeeded has been fully demonstrated by the receipts it has received in the east There is not a dull moment from the rise to the fall of the curtain on the last act Fitz and Webster have secured a capable company and have spared no pains or money to handsomely costume the play and bring it down to the minute They carry their own band for street parade and an excellent orchestra

THE TELEPHONE GIRL

As a play The Telephone Girl has perhaps a plot as high and transparent as the spray from the Niagara Falls cataract but is a bright tuneful pretty vehicle to carry a load of fun and entertainment It is to this as the Rock of Gibraltar So wrote a distinguished critic of Chicago It comes here on next Saturday evening to the Opera house and lots of amusement may be looked for ward to Harry Hermsen who plays the leading male role is astonishingly comical Mabel Hite the clever soubrette who is the prominent female in the organization is bright vivacious and versatile Then there are Douglas and Ford the dancing wonders Flora Parker, the dainty comedienne Frank Kelley Bessie Gilbert the beautiful cornet soloist, Chas Burrows Louise Lewis John J Magee Bert DeRuelle Inez Dale Nelda Herr and the Fifth Avenue Quartette not forgetting the rollicking and beautiful feminine chorus about which much has been said and written The comedy affords many excellent specialties of songs and dances and marches and what not all of a diverting character to say nothing of Gustave Kerker's charming and catchy melodies which pervade the two acts The play is set magnificently and costumed superbly some really stunning gowns being shown

MRS LESLIE CARTER COMING

I predict that no event of the dramatic season will surpass the personal and artistic success awaiting Mrs Leslie Carter on her coming appearance in this city She will appear at the Opera house next Monday in David Belasco's play Zaza and Colorado Springs is fully alive to the fact that in Mrs Carter Zaza are to be seen the first among our great player-women, and the strongest drama that has been presented here in many years Fresh from its triumphs in New York and London, it will come complete in every detail of cast and production and will doubtless repeat here the sterling success that aroused Gotham's critics from their accustomed indifference to a chorus of enthusiasm and praise [illegible] not surprising that during Mrs Carter's entire New York career in Zaza there was not one performance in which the "standing room" sign was not displayed In making his English version of Zaza Mr Belasco has built a powerful play In the title part Mrs Carter has earned every tribute that can possibly be paid to real genius Reserved seats are now on sale at advanced prices

A Sleeping Buck

A couple of years ago I had a camp on Sheaffer's ranch at my home in Siletz on the opening of the season for buck shooting May 1 We had been driving the woods for several hours and were resting two by two I was sitting on a log with a cousin between my knees when suddenly a cousin seated in the carriage in front of me exclaimed "There's a buck!" Supposing he had a shot gun I drove on a couple of hundred yards before I drew up. This is done to make the carriage all danger for him when I then turned around to observe my cousin He was standing behind a tree on the spot where he had left me and was acting strangely He would raise his rifle to shoulder but instead of the expected report, I saw him lower it and raise his field glasses to his eyes After he had gone through these performances several times I saw him step cautiously into the woods A few moments later I heard him shout for me for all he was worth and mingled with his voice came another strange noise I had never heard before I hastened to the spot with my double barreled rifle and found my cousin holding a buck by the horns both yelling at the tops of their voices but it was impossible to say whether the buck danced round the man or the man round the buck (a buck of the deer species most generally met in Germany will only weigh about forty-five pounds) My cousin shouted to me to shoot the buck and as the place where this happened was within a short distance of where Sheaffer shot a buck an hour or two before I tried to do so thinking that this was the buck he had wounded earlier in the morning But before I could get myself before my correct The best roads and the best time. because I was afraid of hitting my cousin for man and beast were jumping around in a lively manner At last I succeeded in putting my rifle on the shoulder of the buck and drew the trigger But in this second the buck must have moved and instead of shooting him through the heart the ball only broke his leg On hearing the report my cousin, only too glad to get rid of his task, let go The buck thereupon made off on his three legs as if he had four, when the second ball from my rifle brought him down

I should almost liked to miss him to have been able to study Sheaffer losing his coveted prize after holding it so long

We found on going up to the buck that he only had my two bullets—In one that had broken his leg and the one that had brought him down—and that the buck had been perfectly sound before

My cousin then explained things He had seen the buck sitting under a tree and stepped out of the carriage to shoot it But when he raised his rifle the posture of the buck gave him the impression that it must be a dead one He therefore stepped up to it and grasped one of the horns to raise the head to better inspect them when to his surprise up jumped the buck My cousin having the luck to grasp his other horn held on to him This is the most extraordinary occurrence with a sleeping deer that ever occurred to me though I have had several experiences with deer at home which have led me to the conviction that you will once in a while run across a dead one.—(Forest and Stream

AN IMPORTANT MATTER.

ONE OF THE questions of national interest to be discussed and settled in the near future relates to the Chinese exclusion law. The present act of congress excluding the Chinese from this country was adopted in 1892 for a period of ten years and expires by limitation on May 1, 1902. Unless congress before that time adopts some additional legislation the United States will be as free to Chinese immigrants as to those of any other nation.

It may be taken as an accepted fact that the western states are unanimous in sentiment in favor of the extension of the present exclusion law and we do not believe that there is in any part of the country a strong sentiment in favor of leaving the gates open to the undesirable immigrants from Asia. The debate upon the new exclusion act will come upon a different point, and that is whether the Japanese shall be subject to the same restrictions that the Chinese now are. The sentiment in California, especially among the classes that secured the adoption of the original Geary bill, is very strong against the Japanese, and an effort will doubtless be made to have the restrictions applied to immigrants from all the oriental countries.

But on the other hand Japan occupies a position in international affairs distinctly different from that of China, and it is true that the former nation has won a position that entitles her to respect from other nations. In a letter written in regard to this matter, Mr. Kakichi Mitsukuri, a professor of the university of Japan says:

"It is, therefore, with a sort of incredulity that we received the news that some sections of the United States are clamoring to have a law passed prohibiting the landing of Japanese in America. It is easily conceivable to the intelligent Japanese that there may be some undesirable elements among the lower class Japanese who emigrate to the Pacific coast; and if such proves to be the case, after due investigation by proper authorities, the remedy might easily be sought, it appears to us, by coming to a diplomatic understanding on the matter and by eliminating the objectionable features. The Japanese government would, without doubt, be open to reason. But to pass a law condemning the Japanese wholesale, for no other reason that that they are Japanese, would be striking a blow at Japan at her most sensitive point. The unfriendly act would be felt more keenly than almost anything conceivable. An open declaration of war would not be resented as much. The reason is not far to seek. Japan has had a long struggle in recovering those rights of an independent state which she was forced to surrender to foreign nations at the beginning of the intercourse with them, and in obtaining a standing in the civilized world. And if, now that the goal is within the measurable distance, her old friend, who may be said in some sense to be almost responsible for having started her in this career, should turn back on her and say she will no longer associate with her on equal terms, the resentment must necessarily be very bitter. The entire loss of prestige in Japan may not seem much to the Americans; but are not the signs too evident that in the coming century that part of the world known as the Far East is going to be the seat of some stupendous convulsions from which great nations may emerge cannot be denied. How clear if they would? And is it not most desirable that in this crisis those countries which have a community of interests should not have misunderstandings with one another? It is earnestly to be hoped that the American statesmen will estimate those larger problems at their proper value, and not let them be overshadowed by partisan considerations."

Such reasoning is strong and cogent, and it is not to be lightly ignored. If the people of California desire to have the Japanese placed under the ban of the United States law they will have to show something more against them than an indiscriminate prejudice against orientals, and even then, if as good a case should be made against them as has been made against the Chinese, the standing of Japan among the nations and the consideration we owe to one that has been our friend on many occasions would warrant a less summary method of securing the exclusion of undesirable Japanese than the passage of an arbitrary law by congress without previous diplomatic negotiation.

RELIEF AT LAST.

THE MANIFOLD EVILS due to insufficient accommodations at the polls will no longer vex the citizens of Colorado Springs.

The county commissioners have done what ought to have been done long ago. They have added 10 new voting precincts to the 15 already established. By this increase it is assured that the number of votes in any one precinct will not exceed 500. It will not longer be necessary for voters to stand in line for hours or lose their votes, and the work of the clerks and judges will be greatly facilitated. The results will be announced much more promptly, and there will be less chance of error and less opportunity for fraud. Most important of all, there will be no more of the partisan irritation inseparable from the former conditions which was growing rapidly in bitterness and which had already nearly resulted in unpleasant consequences.

The new voting places will make voting easier and pleasanter and for that reason they are welcome. It is of the highest importance to the general welfare that as many voters as possible should show their interest and declare their opinions in public affairs. Anything that tends towards this is a good thing, while on the contrary anything that tends to drive the average citizen out of politics or to keep him, or her, out of it, is certainly a bad thing.

STABLE GOVERNMENT IN CUBA.

THERE CAN BE no question but that the United States is bound to see that the government established by the Cubans is a stable one.

This country is responsible for the expulsion of the Spaniards, and we owe it to the Cubans and to the world to make sure that the successor of that government is at least a little better in its character.

It is also a part of our duty to see that the new government shall not be more opposed to our own interests than the old one was. It was not the sufferings of the oppressed in Cuba that gave us the right according to the law of nations to interfere. It was because our own interests were assailed and the message of the president at the beginning of the war made it perfectly clear that the condition then existing directly affected us to our injury in a great many ways, and that their continuance was intolerable. It would be the height of absurdity for us to go to war with Spain in order to correct these abuses and then permit the establishment of worse ones.

There need be no quibble as to the meaning of stable government, for we know under the circumstances what we have a right to expect. But beyond that the United States is bound not only to its pledge of independence for Cuba, but it is bound in honor to fulfill that pledge in a generous and liberal spirit. The mere opinion that Cuba would be better off as a territory of the United States, or that our commercial interests would be better protected if Cuba were not left to her own devices must not be left to stand in the way of the keeping of the national promise both in its letter and its spirit. We must be liberal and broadminded in this matter. We must try to look at it from the standpoint of the Cubans as well as from our own, and wherever there is a doubt we must give them the benefit of it.

It is well to bear these things in mind because there are as is usual in such cases, extremists on both sides who are trying to mislead the people. On the one hand are those who are scheming to bring matters to such a pass that the United States will be forced to maintain its hold on Cuba, and on the other hand are the theorists who are ready to maintain that the United States has no duty towards Cuba that it has not already performed and that the only thing for it now to do is to get out of the island as fast as possible. Neither of these extreme ideas represents the sentiment of the American people and neither directs the policy of the administration.

The problem is a difficult one. It requires tact as well as wisdom for its solution. But we are confident in the honesty of the American people, in its sense of justice and fairness, and we believe that the outcome will be satisfactory if the good sense and conscience of the American people are allowed to control.

PHILIPPINES INFORMATION.

AN ASSOCIATION has been formed in Boston for the purpose of publishing reliable information in regard to the Philippines. In its introductory statement the society says:

"The whole of the evidence, even the whole of the official evidence, is more voluminous than a busy people can be expected to read. Some selection therefore on our part has been a necessary condition of the accomplishing of our object. This selection by us has, however, been confined so far as possible to the choosing of the subjects to be dealt with. Upon each subject chosen we have given in some cases all the evidence obtainable, in all other cases as much of the evidence as the setting of reasonable limits to the length of these publications would permit, and ample references to the remainder. In these cases we have endeavored to include the evidence that is most authoritative and important."

Three of the publications of the Philippine information society are at hand, and they appear to carry out the pledge of the society to supply reliable and impartial information regarding the situation in the islands. The subjects of these are: "Aguinaldo," a selection from his official documents, together with the authorized accounts of the alleged 'Spanish bribe;' "The Insurgent Government of 1898—together with opinions on the question, Are the Filipinos capable of self-government?" "Our relations with the insurgents previous to the fall of Manila, were promises made?"

The object of this society is a most important one, and its work is worthy of generous commendation and support. Much of our difficulty in dealing with the Philippines is due to lack of definite information in regard to the islands and their people, and if this society accomplishes its object it will be doing a great good for the country.

The pamphlets contain the announcement that they may be obtained on application to L. R. Fuller, 12 Otis Place, Boston, Mass.

A VALUABLE PUBLICATION.

OF UNDOUBTED value will be the forthcoming annual statistical number of the Mining Investor of this city. The Investor is always reliable and makes it a first object to look after the interests of the investor in gold mining stocks.

In the annual number a large amount of carefully prepared information is presented which is not only of great current interest to all connected in any way with the mining stock market, but which is valuable for permanent preservation and reference.

Among the most valuable publications relating to Cripple Creek have been the previous annual numbers of the Investor, and the issue for 1901 will be in no way inferior to its predecessors.

A GOOD ARTICLE ON CHINA.

ONE OF THE BEST recent articles on China is by Sir Robert Hart and appears in the current number of the Living Age. The author is thoroughly conversant with Chinese character and conditions and sets forth in clearest fashion the difficulties attending the negotiations between the allies and the imperial Chinese government.

Although written last November the article still holds good and any one who reads it cannot fail to have a better appreciation of what is going on in China at the present time.

AN EXPECTED QUARREL.

THE refusal of Count von Waldersee, the German commander who is nominally at the head of the allied forces in China, to approve the French expedition against the province of Shan-si, may have important consequences. It is only with great difficulty that the harmony between the forces of the different nations has thus far been preserved. The Germans, the Russians, the British, and the Japanese have their own opinions of each other, and it is putting it very mildly to say that these opinions are uncomplimentary. As for the Americans, they have withdrawn their forces with the exception of a small guard thus expressing their opinion that the object of the expedition was accomplished when Peking was taken and the legationers delivered.

Whether the dissension between the German and French commanders is smoothed over, or the French forces withdrawn, or both continue to act in China without regard to each other, the incident is an ominous one. China is playing the waiting game which has so often been successful in Turkish diplomacy, and there is every reason to believe that if it can be continued long enough it will be equally successful in this case. A serious quarrel among the allies would undoubtedly be the signal for the Chinese to take matters into their own hands, and the final settlement would be along lines entirely different from those now laid down by the powers.

MRS. NATION NOT A TRUST.

THE QUESTION as to whether Mrs. Nation of Kansas, is a trust or a union has been settled with authority by the Society of Labor at Topeka, which recently adopted the following resolution:

Resolved, That we, the members of the organized labor of the state of Kansas here assembled in our annual convention, would respectfully ask our president to appoint a committee of five to wait upon Mrs. Nation and ask her to confine her working hours to an agreement with organized labor namely: To work but eight hours a day (not between the hours of 8 a. m. and 6 p. m. and to see that she performs no overtime work except in cases of extreme necessity for which overtime she is to receive time and a half.

It is to be hoped that Mrs. Nation will be able to arrange this matter with herself as otherwise a strike might follow that would be disastrous.

FROM THE PRESS OF THE NATION.

Civil Rule for the Philippines.

(St. Louis Globe-Democrat.)

The work of organizing the provincial civil governments in the Philippines is about to begin. This work, of course, is under the direction of the Taft commission. It will not interfere with the operations of the Spooner bill, if this measure should pass in the present congress. Apparently the Taft commission's task will be to lay down the broad lines on which the framework of the civil regime in the provinces will be built. It will supersede the military rule by the civil power just as rapidly as the latter gets ready to go into effect. On the basis which will thus be laid by the administration's political representatives in the Philippines, the Taft commission, the entire civil authority, in its professional condition, will be built. The military authorities and the civil power will work in co-operation until the new machinery of government gets fairly into operation, and then the military men will drop into the background.

This is the American way of doing things. In every piece of territory which the United States has gained since the beginning of the government the course of procedure was similar to that which is in progress in the Philippines at the present moment. General James Wilkinson and his soldiers entered New Orleans at the time the transfer of Louisiana from France to the United States took place, and the province for the time was under military sway. A like course was pursued in Florida a score of years later, and similar conditions prevailed in New Mexico and California after they were acquired through conquest and purchase. In some of those cases the inhabitants of the country transferred were averse to the change. This was particularly the case in Louisiana and in the region gained from Mexico. Neither party to the transaction, however, took particular note of what the inhabitants of the annexed region thought or said about their change of allegiance. The United States knew in all of those cases, as it knows now in relation to the Filipinos, that the natives would quickly see that their condition was greatly benefited by the change, and then they would rejoice at the alteration in their political status.

A few months ago a civil regime was established in Puerto Rico. The inhabitants of that island are enjoying home rule in its elementary phase. The same thing took place in Louisiana and all the annexed regions just as soon as the military regime could safely or conveniently be removed. The same thing is about to occur in the Philippines. At a day in the very near future Puerto Rico will undoubtedly get a fully-developed territorial government, like that possessed by Oklahoma, Arizona and New Mexico. Hawaii has reached the complete territorial status, although she has been American territory only a few months longer than the Philippines. If a rebellion had broken out in Hawaii, to be sure, the territorial regime would have been postponed until peace was established. There are indications that the rebellion in the Philippines is ended, and that nothing will occur to interrupt the extension of civil government all over the archipelago. The procedure in the Philippines will be similar to that in Louisiana, Florida and the rest of the acquisitions of contiguous territory to only a limited degree, for the Philippines can never be cut up into states. The islanders will be given all the home rule short of that status which can be safely extended to them. The indications are strong already that the Filipinos are [illegible] which have emancipated them from Spanish dominion and placed them under America's enlightened sway.

Queen Wilhelmina's Wedding.

(Chicago Record.)

Of a miniature scale the little realm of the Netherlands is today enjoying the festivities and experiencing the excitements which attended the wedding of Queen Victoria many years ago, and the young Queen Wilhelmina is as full of happiness as was the late British monarch when she wedded her young prince. The Hague is brimming over with excitement and the burghers are rejoicing in a carnival display upon the streets. The prospect for both the bride and the [illegible] whom they are honoring seems to be nearly cloudless and except for the publicity attending the affair the bride and groom are enjoying themselves quite as any other well-regulated young couple might do.

The wedding is peculiar among royal alliances in that it appears to be a genuine love match and no unpleasant political or diplomatic interests have had to be considered. If the marriage is to have any political effect, it, as some of its observers contend, is to be in the future. In so doing Duke Henry of Mecklenburg-Schwerin will benefit by contrast as a [illegible] family with one of the influential German princes and if the Netherlands is ever to become German territory the face of such an alliance may do some service in bringing about the [illegible] process by which Germany would acquire a rich and [illegible] land and the Netherlands would gain a powerful protector.

Queen Wilhelmina, however, seems to be a very determined young person of some stability of character and true Dutch conservatism. With these traits and the hearty affection which apparently exists between her and the [illegible] may be [illegible] to consider, a long time, before doing anything which would diminish the [illegible] sovereign power of her kingdom.

As To Deportations.

(New York Tribune.)

The orders recently issued by General MacArthur deporting from the Philippines certain Tagals who were preaching the insurgent and also expelling from Manila an American who was [illegible] a newspaper, have superficially a military character. In reality they are [illegible] the civil tribunals of [illegible] military orders of the major general commanding, and it has been the recognized right in every general, at all times and in all countries to expel from his lines all persons whom he considered a menace to the military situation. Our generals did it during the civil war. Nobody questioned their right to order away from their headquarters correspondents whose writings they considered prejudicial to their cause, or to lock up the disloyal [illegible] and their lines or [illegible] readers who [illegible] there could be no [illegible] in the enemy. They exercised this authority [illegible] within the states of the north and the supreme court upheld them in so doing.

In time of war within the lines of operations everybody is subject to martial law. The American citizen in Manila has no more rights there under the Constitution than the Tagal, and if he wants to secure any he must get beyond the area of military occupation and back to scenes of peace, where his country's courts are open and its civil laws in force. General MacArthur may have exercised good or bad judgment in ordering the deportations. General Butler may have been wise or unwise in his rule as military governor of New Orleans. Lincoln may have performed an act of great humanity or of military oppression when as commander-in-chief of the army he freed the slaves in parts of the United States which war was going on. No one of these men could have done what he did in time of peace under the Constitution. Each of them did what he had the power to do as a military commander carrying on war. The [illegible] of today will probably be as exercised as were those of Lincoln's time over the [illegible] of military [illegible] but it is a well-established rule, accepted even by free Americans, that if persons do not wish to conform to the orders of a general prosecuting a campaign they have no business within his lines.

The Suffrage in Cuba.

(Los Angeles Herald.)

The Cuban constitutional convention has voted, by a large majority, to insert a clause allowing universal suffrage. Business is in a precarious condition in Havana, owing to a report that the United States government will soon turn the country over to the Cubans. The two considerations are [illegible]

It would be a grievous mistake to establish immediately universal suffrage in Cuba. The Cubans are undoubtedly capable of self-government under proper restrictions, and it is the solemn duty of the commission at Washington to see that such conditions are imposed. But, at this juncture, universal suffrage would mean a repetition of the dark and bloody story of Hayti and San Domingo. The Republican party gave the negro universal suffrage promptly at the close of the civil war; but would it repeat that policy today if the opportunity were renewed? The Democrats, for political effect, have urged immediate and complete independence for both Cuba and the Philippines, regardless of results, while they are still deliberately attempting to abridge the negro's constitutional rights in the south.

The government has a responsibility in Cuba that it cannot afford to ignore or treat lightly. We must give the Cubans not merely self-government, but stable government. The United States is the guardian of Cuba. Large business and financial interests have been projected, and a considerable flow of immigration has taken place, based almost wholly upon the guardianship of the United States. The mere rumor that we are about to turn the country [illegible] they will has caused trepidation. It is [illegible] to reflect what would happen if the rumor became fact.

It is certain that a large and influential element of the population in Cuba is not in favor of giving a free hand to the people, as a whole, [illegible] universal suffrage and similar institutions. The best element of native Cubans are confident that the United States can be trusted to do what is best for all interests, upon the basis of the pledge given by congress more than two years ago, and they are willing to abide the fulness of time set by our government. The administration is trying to establish in Cuba a government that will stand and which will be a credit, not only to the Cubans themselves, but to the nation responsible for its regeneration. Immediate universal suffrage would be a move in the opposite direction.

The Democracy of Yale.

Yale college—and by this is meant that part of the university exclusive of the scientific and professional schools—is the seat of a peculiar and old democracy. Each year several hundred freshmen will be found in the somber precincts of Alumni hall struggling with their entrance examinations. They have come from every section of the country, and a long [illegible] Many represent the characters of differing people and several conditions of society. Beside the impecunious "grind" sits the scion of a millionaire. Over in the corner, beneath the picture of a revered and [illegible] an awkward fellow who is a [illegible] sandy hair, is shuffling his feet in evident discomfort, while in the [illegible] the well-groomed son of some old family strives to marshal the powers of a dozen knabbedges. It is almost [illegible] to say that all enter here upon an equal footing, the birthright of the young aristocrat has destined him to greater advantages than his [illegible] associate. The education which the impecunious "grind" has shed out after much scraping and self-denial in the home has been lavished upon the rich man's son. But for not one despise nor the other stand in awe of his fellow. Misuse of such advantages is as derogatory in the one case as the over-rating of them is disastrous in the other, because in this [illegible] microcosm pluck, brains and a sturdy good-fellowship are the only sure elements that lead to success. Wherever these are found, no other question is asked but recognition quickly and gladly accorded. In one of our great universities, family names insure immediate distinction. Wealth may be no advantage but poverty allied with [illegible] is a condition regardless of other qualifications. At Yale a man can rise above his poverty to positions of honor while his humble [illegible] recommendation. Such a condition of affairs makes it possible for the man who earns his way by running an "eating joint" to become captain of the crew or football team, thus receiving all the honors which such positions confer. Nor will the fact that he tutors to meet his expenses debar him from any honor within his reach. The requirements, however, are most exacting. Many candidates try for the various athletic teams, but only a limited number are taken. The men chosen to [illegible] them but they [illegible] be at their best. The field, nevertheless, is open to all comers. A man is stimulated by the prospects of coveted reward, he is estimated for what he is and does, and whether successful or not is certainly the better for his efforts.—Frederick Tilney in Atlantic.

Goddard Will Not Permit Any Lynching

Sheriff Goddard in view of the feeling on the part of the better people of Colorado Springs Monday night that there was to be an attempt to lynch W P Campbell yesterday issued a statement to the people of the county concerning his attitude on lynching now or at any time while he is in the office of sheriff.

It developed yesterday that there had been not the slightest foundation for the report which created the gathering of an armed force of citizens near the jail on Monday night but had there been any demonstration it would have met with adequate resistance on the part of the county authorities and there was no occasion for the steps which the colored people took and for the sheriff to take to protect Campbell by persons other than the proper officers.

The following statement has been given out by the sheriff to the public through the press:

"I wish it to be plainly understood by the citizens of El Paso county and other counties in this state that I will at all times protect every prisoner in my charge to the utmost extent of the law and to as far as the law gives me the power. As long as I am sheriff of El Paso county I will resist with every means in my power any attempt to unlawfully take prisoners from the El Paso county jail irrespective of color or nationality. I firmly believe that the law should take its course in all cases and as I am elected by the people of this county to enforce the law that ... I propose to be on duty to this city from Pueblo last night should attempt to take any prisoner from my custody. I believe he could make it so interesting that lynching would go out of fashion in this portion of Colorado.

To the colored people of this city I desire to say that I will give the same protection to my prisoners as the fullest protection but that any armed assemblage going on unlawful intent will not be tolerated or allowed at or near the county jail. There was no occasion for the gathering such as occurred last night as I am amply able to protect any prisoner committed to my charge and will resist against all comers who have not the proper warrant of law. The colored citizens can rest assured that the law will be enforced as long as I am sheriff and all prisoners will be protected from mob violence."

Public Library Annual Meeting

The annual meeting of the Public Library association was held yesterday morning at the library rooms and was quite well attended. The result was the election of the following board of directors: I. J. Ehrich, C. W. Hains, J. B. Hill, Mrs. I. H. Eldredge, Mrs. L. C. Goddard, Mrs. Charles Noble, Miss I. L. Tinker, Miss M. B. Steckel, Will F. Slocum, Theophilus Harrison, L. L. Clark.

After the general meeting the board of directors met and elected W. Haines Lee president, Mrs. Eldredge treasurer, J. B. Hill, secretary.

Mrs. Dunbar was reappointed librarian with Miss Light and Miss Knight as assistants.

Rev. Thos. F. Gedge and Mr. C. W. Haines were appointed a committee to visit the city council and ask that the annual appropriation for the library purposes be $3,000 this year.

Treasurer Hills's report showed that $600 is for a special purpose recently donated by the county commissioners. It is not the traveling library.

Mrs. Dunbar, the librarian, submitted the following report of the work for the year:

Colorado Springs, Feb. 4, 1901.

Since the regular monthly meetings have been instituted the report of the librarian for the year will be to the board of directors but a summing up and a review. To the other members of the association it may be of some interest to learn what we have done.

At the end of each year it has been a satisfaction to note a decided advance in the work and something definite accomplished. The year that closes the nineteenth century is not behind in its record although for the first time in its history the library has had to close its doors to the public for a short ... of the prevalence of contagious diseases. During the month of December the patronage diminished very perceptibly and when the executive board by order of the city physician directed the library be closed during the public school vacation the action was generally approved by the citizens. During this time the library force did a deal of hard work in the annual clearing up among the books, periodicals etc. and in promoting the work on the catalogue.

About two weeks before the library closed we began to fumigate no book going out until it had been through the fumigator. This is still being done and will be continued until the city physician notifies us there is no more danger. After that we shall fumigate often enough to keep our rooms and books free from any contagion.

In the circulation of books no month ... during the year ... except December when only ... books were given out, this is the lowest record since October of 1899, which records 1,967 books. It stated. The month of March shows the largest circulation we have ever had—3,676. Had December been a normal month the total circulation for the year would have been nearly 40,000, quite 10,000 in excess of 1899.

One hundred and forty-five bound books, 82 magazines, 1,094 other periodicals and pamphlets and about 70 ... several books have been donated. Upwards of 200 public books have been purchased at auction or private sales for moderate sums. About 30 new books have been laid on (not all have been received), two sets of cyclopedias have been received and are part paid for, 26 volumes of magazines are being bound, making a total addition of at least 1,100 bound books.

We subscribe for 16 monthly magazines, two Rix publications and 5 daily papers, one evening and daily papers are contributed.

In order to secure the new and popular fiction which is in great demand the experiment was tried of charging five cents a week for each book ... would put on the shelves free to all. The plan, as it has thus far met with almost unqualified approval, 55 books have been purchased to date in this way and 28 of them are paid for.

It is impossible to give the number of patrons exactly for they come and go in this city of transients. There are ... than 7,000 ... but and I think it would be safe to say that 7,000 or 8,000 cards have been in use through the year.

The important work of the year has been the making of the card catalogue for which purpose Miss McVety was employed a year ago and has satisfactorily completed her part of the work. Her contract was for 7,000 books. When 5,000 more ... came in she agreed with the librarian to do a certain number of them, leaving the government publications and ... to finish, she having learned the science of cataloguing of her in the meantime. Five thousand six hundred and seventy-eight books have been cataloged of these 93 are juvenile, about 1,700 fiction and the remainder (3,500) belong to the various classes.

The catalogue for the use of the public is practically completed for the books now in the library except the government publications. But considerable work remains to be done which does not come before the public or is not for the public use. The work of cataloguing in a growing library is never done. If there were time the story of a public library book from the time it is in request till it is discarded would be interesting.

It should be borne in mind that where a library is used as is this one many books are worn out in the year and are discarded. We replace them till it is impossible to use them longer here—then those that have still the leaves and our duplicates in magazines etc. are given to the county teachers, the jail and to anyone who wishes them. Also remember that of the books that are given us many, the majority are old and their life is short compared with that of a new book.

The prosperity of the public library for this year as in previous years is greatly dependent upon the appropriation from the city. The library is not to be considered a charitable institution any more than the public schools or the parks or the streets but is recognized as a necessary institution in all the well-established intelligent communities and is one of the public utilities supported by the public revenues.

A public library should extend its influence in as wide a circuit as possible. The action of the county commissioners in appropriating $500 will enable us to establish branch libraries at different places in the county, thus giving to many residents in the county ready access to many good books. The city library will be ... to the county as to the city. These few branch ... will ... and valuable that another year the commissioners will deem it advisable to increase the appropriation very materially.

The establishment of a separate children's department has always been among our plans, the furthering of this object and the branch libraries is to be the objective work for the present year.

Books, books, books are always needed as is the library roll, which ... and may our townspeople take it ... our boys and girls in the college and the high school take up their's for the library is the city's branch of public instruction.

The other library needs will be presented to the board at the proper time.

Susan T. Dunbar,
Librarian.

Mr. Harry Wolbert, who has been connected with the Hamburg and Mississippi railroad in Arkansas for a year or two, is in the city. He expects to remain in Colorado and his family will join him shortly.

CITY HALL NOTES

The police yesterday dealt with the following arrests:

F. R. Larsen, charged with drunkenness, was arrested in the rear of the Salvation Army hall by Officer Shelby. Larsen had gone into an outbuilding and locked the door, but had to be broken down before the officer could make the arrest.

P. J. Harrison, ... will have a ... with Detective Atkinson on the street. Harrison formerly worked at Heckenway's grocery and knew the place well. When he became financially embarrassed as he did yesterday, he went to the store and stole two boxes of tobacco which he was trying to sell when he was arrested.

Richard Doe is the name given as the man who was arrested by Officer Grimes in the postoffice yesterday on a charge of intoxication. He had taken a little too much of what the police call "tanglefoot whiskey" and thought himself a great speaker. He informed the police authorities that he was sore distressed that he should be found in such a condition but if they so wished they might lock him up and he would not say them nay. They locked him up and he will have a trial this morning.

John Doe and William Murphy were arrested by Officers Knapp and Shelby yesterday and they will have to answer to the charge of drunkenness in police court this morning.

The flag was up on the city hall yesterday in honor of Lincoln's birthday.

In police court yesterday morning the following cases were disposed of:

John Murphy, a vag., was fined $20 and costs and committed.

William McGraw, a drunk, was fined $5 and costs and committed.

Arthur Boland, a drunk, was fined $10 but was allowed to leave town.

Peter Cutshen was fined $5 and costs for drunkenness and was given time to pay his fin.

Jimmie Ryan, a drunk, was fined $10 and costs. He was allowed to leave town.

NEWS OF THE COURTS

... of Tom Bowen against E. Schrader and John S. Gibbons, two of the directors of the Brown-Schrader company which erected the brick work of the new Antlers hotel, the trial of which occupied all of week before last in division ... of the district court at Denver, Judge Malone has decided in favor of the defendants. The injunction restraining Mr. Schrader from acting as president and Mr. Gibbons from acting as secretary of the company was dissolved and the suit dismissed at Mr. Brewer's costs. The court refused to give a stay of judgment and ordered the stockholders meeting to take place in Denver on February 11. Mr. Brewer was not satisfied with Judge Malone's decision and took an appeal to the court of appeals. He was given fifteen days in which to file a bond and sixty days for bill of exceptions.

In the district court in this city yesterday a case entitled James C. Parrish vs. Huerfano Street Improvement company was filed. It is a money demand suit.

In the county court an action to set aside a deed was commenced. It is a suit brought by O. Parker against Ida M. Wentz.

Just a few treatments in our Hot Air Baths and your Grippe is entirely eradicated from your system. The poisonous deposits left by this disease and which hang on so obstinately causing throbbing headaches, muscular soreness and a feeling of general weakness yield more readily to the Hot Air treatment than to any other. These dangerous poisons must be entirely disposed of before the system can build up again, and while they remain in the body are a constant menace to health and a permanent danger, ultimately concentrating in the body's weakest point and causing other severe sickness. If you've had the Grippe be sure you get it all out.

STATE MINING NEWS.

GILPIN COUNTY

The large Jeansville stamp mill recently received by the Gowers syndicate has been put in position at the main shaft of the Running Lode in Black Hawk Thomas Dunstan the manager informs the Observer that as soon as the pipe column is in the mill will be put in operation and the plant tried. The property is looking well under the management of Mr Dunstan

Connection has been made with the lower workings of the Bobtail with the workings of the Bobtail on Mount Kelley the crosscut which is a distance of the Boston Colorado Mining and Milling property will be used. Cook shaft and a portion of the haulage to the point where the property was made with the workings of the Bobtail. By turning, they can still further sink the Gregory incline shaft. Mr Smith manager is having samples taken from various points in the mine taken from which assays will be made to ascertain the values contained in the same

The Grand Central Mining company composed of Colorado Springs parties who have purchased the Last Chance mine on Gunnell hill this city filed their articles of incorporation with the secretary of state Saturday. It is capitalized at $500,000, par value of shares $1 each. The directors for the first year are H B Butcher H B McMasters H G Myers Horace Granfield and Daniel McMasters. It is understood that work on the property will commence in a very short time.—(Colorado Springs Gazette.

RUSSELL GULCH DISTRICT

It is said that work will be resumed on the Hillhouse. A new party having taken hold of it

Dr Henry Paul was a visitor to this place today and took in the new strike at the Aududdell mine

Quite a number of investors have been looking over claims in Russell district the past two weeks with a view of making investments.

Col C H Babcock last week made a shipment of crude ore to the Rocky Mountain Concentrator in Black Hawk from the 240 mine

A D Ames has purchased of R J Jones a one sixth interest in the Robert Fulton, Gladstone and Living stone lode claims, in Russell district

The older residents of this place will pleasantly remember Cyrus Lyons a former well-known mining man of Russell Gulch. The Silver Plume Standard states that Cyrus has struck it rich on the Pelican mine, where he is leasing.—(Gilpin Observer

The board of commissioners while in session last Tuesday in Central City decided to send Dr Eisenhut to the hospital in Denver the old gentleman having fallen and is unable to take care of himself. Sheriff Cody left with him today and will make arrangement before he leaves to have the doctor properly cared for.—(Gilpin Observer

SAN MIGUEL COUNTY

In the lower level of the Buttes a terrible battery of electric drills has been installed, and the big bore now in the feet is being pushed ahead with rapidity. There yet remains about 500 feet to drive to in order to connect the large ore body. This body shows in the level about five feet wide for a distance of about 40 feet. This work turned will open the shoot 250 feet below the present workings giving a large territory of stoping ground for next summers extraction.—(Telluride Journal

OURAY COUNTY.

Latest reports from the Governor in which a marvelously rich strike was chronicled last week, lead to the conclusion that one of the greatest mines in the state has been opened, and that from the richness of mineral now in it will rival the famous Camp Bird

During the past few days considerable development work has been done and the vein has been exposed for a number of feet. It now measures two feet and four inches and in the main the ore is of a very high grade red ruby silver character. An assay taken from ore across the full width of the vein run over one ounces in silver and gold with sufficient lead to [illegible] treatment charges. There is a wide streak running through the center of the vein which is almost pure silver

The vein is a fissure of unknown depth and shows marked symptoms of widening out and its continuity is no longer questioned. The present workings are only 20 feet from the surface and enough is already known of this mine to guarantee the statement that in a few brief months it will make millionaires of the holders of the bonds and leases.

The mine is located in the Mount Hayden district only a short distance from Ouray and within half an hour's ride of the county seat. It will be worked by the state

A force of miners will be employed during the next [illegible] days and by the first of March the mill will be running full [illegible] of the first grade

HINSDALE COUNTY

[illegible] the first of last week [illegible] and the Hocker [illegible] Southwest side [illegible] veins on the Hocker [illegible] reached at a depth [illegible] tunnel will [illegible] mill. The Hocker, New York and Golden King veins [illegible] they three veins will surely be caught in the next ten days

There is talk that the Lake City people will drill a ten inch hole from a point on the surface just south of Hocker Hill to a point intersecting the tunnel where the Hocker [illegible] commences. The drill to be used is what is known as a churn drill and the same [illegible] in drilling wells

The Ute is shipping about ten tons of concentrates weekly and about the same amount is being sent out from the Hidden Treasure

One car [illegible] of ore from Hocker ground for the sinter today and John Gray will send out one from the same property tomorrow

H S Walsh of Denver and J N Sullivan of Chicago have been [illegible] Monday and have been installing new machinery at the Nellie mine this week.

Frank Adams superintendent of the Henson creek lead mines was in town Thursday. He reports development work proceeding very satisfactorily on the properties.—(Ouray Plaindealer

PROUDFIT & CO'S MARKET LETTER

Colorado Springs Feb 9 1901

The closing week has been the most important in the volume of transactions in the history of the exchange. Sales of stock average something like [illegible] shares for every day in the week. The local feeling is very hopeful. The people have decided to improve on the example of the older stock which has lost its control and more or less neglected some of the most glorious instances of the world. Among these are Work, Cripple Creek Consolidated, Physician, Golden Cycle, Columbia, Next Haven, Shannon, Golden Days and others. All of this is the result of [illegible] the intrinsic condition of the properties. In addition to these causes of the recent prominence have been such developments as the latest bulletins from the Portland, Work, Cripple Creek Consolidated

HOW ST. VALENTINE SAVED THE DAY.

Copyright, 1901, by Arthur Stringer

I.

[He had loved her long in his tongue-tied way.
And he wanted to tell her so;
So he tried and tried, but he couldn't decide
Just how he should let her know.

Oh, he might have called for a hansom cab
And just hurried up Dorothy's street,
And have asked for her with his heart astir
And kneeled at the lady's feet.

II.

[Any time, of course, he could telegraph
To "Miss Dorothy D. St. Claire"
And so break the ice in a line concise
He could, but he didn't dare.

He could ring her up on the office phone
Any hour of the day, he knew,
And ask, "Is this Thirty-eight Naught Bliss?"
And say that he loved her true.

III.

[Or from ten each morning till five at night
He might say with a business air
To his shorthand miss: "Will you please take this
To Dorothy D. St. Claire:

"In reply to yours it was eyes, I said;
I would state that my heart's quite lost:
But, Dorothy dear, is the market clear
For stock in a chap at cost?"

IV.

[But he didn't say one of these simple things
(And a word would have been quite clear),
Though we looked on him as a paradigm
And a man who knew no fear.

But he sent by post unto "D. D. S."—
Well, he blushingly sent in fine—
Just a pink perfumed and Cupid begroomed,
Huge, silly old Valentine.

V.

[And the verse was not of the best, I know
And the rhythm was far from good.
But at that late day, and in some strange way,
Miss Dorothy understood.

ARTHUR STRINGER.

NEARLY NINETY, BUT REDEEMS A LOAN OF $2,500,000.

Probably one of the strangest happenings in Wall street, New York, was that in which, a short time ago, aged Henry Hart, street railroad magnate and millionaire, whose latest portrait is presented here, redeemed a loan of $2,500,000 made to him last year by a syndicate of brokers. He got caught in the crash of the Third Avenue railroad, it will be recalled, and had to pledge his stock in that concern for the loan. To a man 89 years old the loss of a few shares of stock, more or less, ought not to seem a very serious matter, but aged Henry Hart viewed it otherwise. He could look back more than 50 years to the time when, as a poor horse car driver, he had invested every dollar of his hard earned savings in Third Avenue stock. And he never sold a share. Through its rise in value he became a millionaire and finally the king of the road.

In physique Mr. Hart is as peculiar as he is in habits, for he is only 4 feet 7 inches high at his straightest and has a slight, nervous figure and big, bulging eyes.

A RECENTLY DISCOVERED VANDYKE.

The interest ordinarily attaching to a great picture is enhanced in connection with the one presented in the accompanying illustration by the fact that it is not only historic, but is a recently discovered work from the brush of the famous painter Vandyke. Although born in Antwerp in the last year of the sixteenth century, Vandyke's growing reputation as the most illustrious of Rubens' pupils attracted the attention of Charles I of England, who in 1632 invited him to his court. He was soon after knighted as Sir Anthony Vandyke and received a life pension of £200.

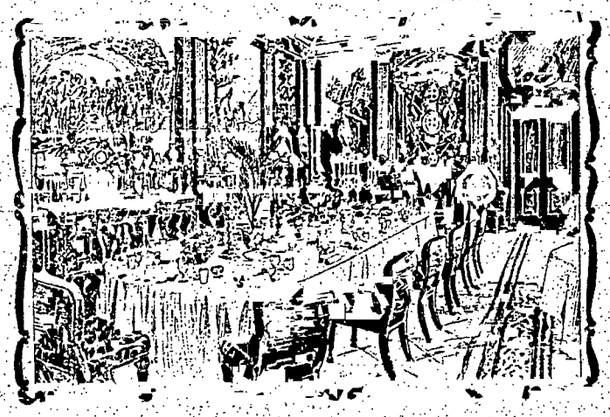
This is how it happens that the best of Vandyke's works are now to be found in England and that the remains of this great painter were interred in St. Paul's cathedral when he died in 1641. His royal patron survived him eight years, losing his head in 1649, but during their acquaintance Vandyke painted several portraits of the king. This picture of the king's charger shows great power and force, but the "handling" of the war horse would be derided by modern artists, aided as they have been by photography in delineating the noble beast in action.

KING EDWARD'S DINING HALL AT SANDRINGHAM.



The handsomest apartment at Sandringham, the beautiful country place of King Edward VII of England, is declared by those who have been privileged to visit there to be the dining room, shown in the accompanying illustration. Although not a hall in the old baronial sense, it is a room of noble proportions, with richly carved wainscoting hung with tapestries presented by the king of Spain and adorned with magnificent trophies of the king's Indian trip when he was Prince of Wales.

Sandringham itself, as is probably known, was purchased for the then Prince of Wales about 40 years ago and is one of the most magnificent of estates, costing, with the buildings then standing, £220,000 and containing about 8,000 acres. The keepers is varied and beautiful, the forests containing not only the pines of Norway, but the grand old oaks of England, besides which there are great sweeps of lawn and large stretches of meadow.

The buildings have been practically renewed since the acquisition of Sandringham by royalty, and throughout the vast pile there is an air of domesticity as well as of regal richness bestowed by its lovely mistress, Queen Alexandra.

SIR W. H. WHITE AND THE BRITISH NAVAL RUMPUS.

The gentleman whose portrait appears in the accompanying illustration has been the subject of strong censure recently in connection with the construction of the beautiful yacht Alberta, built for the use of British royalty. When the yacht was ready for launching she manifested an altogether reprehensible disposition to "turn turtle." The British admiralty has expended a very large sum in repairs and in tinkering the unfortunate vessel, but without restoring her lost equilibrium. The yacht experts say that her designer raised her metacentric height too much, or, in plain English, that she is top heavy.

Now it happens that the designer held responsible for this miscarriage of the good intentions of parliament and the British taxpayers is Sir William Henry White, K. C. B., director of naval construction and assistant controller of the royal navy. Sir W. H. White was born in 1845, was knighted in 1895, and his rise has been rapid from a poor apprentice in the shipyards to his present position as chief constructor of the "king's navee."

The significance of the charge against him lies in the fact that he has designed practically all the warships of the British navy since 1885.

MR. AND MRS. GEORGE CORNWALLIS-WEST.

There seems to have been an unusual begins of English people from the "tight little island" this winter, with the United States as the Mecca of their journeyings. Their good taste is commendable, but this has not been called in question since so many titled Britons have given indubitable evidence of it in marrying rich and charming American women. One of the latest pilgrims is that fascinating and famous woman whose portrait, together with that of her husband, is given in the accompanying illustration, Mrs. George Cornwallis-West, formerly Lady Randolph Churchill, born Jerome, who honored the British aristocracy by marrying into it about 27 years ago.

Her second marriage, which took place last July, attracted much attention, owing mainly to the opposition of the respective families because of the disparity of age between the two, Lieutenant West being but a little older than Lady Randolph's elder son, Winston Churchill, who recently concluded a lecturing tour in this country.

PARAGRAPHS OF INTEREST.

In Belgium there are more than 50,000 dogs used for draft purposes. They are mostly employed by milkmen, peddlers and small farmers, and a society for the improvement of the breed has just been formed.

Bunker Hill monument at Charlestown, Mass., is to have an encircling row of electric lights near its top at night if anybody can be found willing to pay the cost, estimated at $1,200 a year. The Monument association refuses to pay the bill, and some of its members, while they will not oppose the project, are of the opinion that the garish lights would cheapen the historic pile.

The sugar cane grows from 6 to 20 feet high.

Pennies do not consist of copper alone, there being in them 2 per cent of tin and 3 per cent of zinc to 95 of copper. They cost the government about 42 cents a pound, exclusive of stamping, and there are 148 in a pound, so that the government makes a fair profit on every pound minted since, while they are redeemable in gold, but few are ever presented.

Yard was once any stick, rod or pole. The expression is still used with this meaning when applied to various parts of ship's equipment, as yardarm, sailyard and the like.

There are six species of mosquito found in New England.

Every ship loading at New Orleans with mules or horses under British contracts for use in South Africa is being carefully watched to prevent the placing on board of infernal machines or other destructive instruments in behalf of the Boers' cause. The coal especially is subjected to careful scrutiny.

It requires eight years for some sorts of wood to become seasoned.

According to Malte Brun, the most accurate authority of his time, the population of the world in 1804 was 640,000,000. At the end of 1900 it is estimated at 1,300,000,000. The population in 1800 was probably about 830,000,000.

With over 70,000,000 of population in this country, California today stands isolated, with only 1,500,000 of population, but producing in many lines sufficient for 100,000,000 of consumers.

It is not such a very distant jump from the English to the French language. There are 6,000 words used alike in French and English without variation in spelling. The variation is in the pronunciation.

Russia drinks about $82,000,000 worth of tea every year.

In Paris the public authorities supply gratuitously sulphurous baths to all workers who manipulate lead.

PARROTS TAUGHT BY MACHINERY.

Parrots are now taught to speak by machinery. One bird fancier in London educates on an average 40 birds a month and does it entirely by means of phonographs. The parrots' classroom is divided up into little compartments, which are kept quite dark. Each bird is placed in a separate compartment, and two or three times a day a phonograph is left with it. The machine is quite automatic and will repeat a sentence or a number of sentences over and over again for hours, so that the birds very soon learn to imitate the weird, mechanical voice that comes out of the darkness. The only disadvantages to the system is that the over-conscientious scholars copy the phonographic speech rather too closely and learn to imitate the curious grating noise made by the phonograph during the pauses between the sentences.

Canaries can be taught to sing in the same way, a well-trained bird being first persuaded to produce a "record" by singing into the phonograph. Favorite birds have been sent to the phonograph school from all parts of the kingdom, the fees for a term of two or three weeks being from 5 shillings to 10 shillings, and the originator of the system makes a very comfortable income out of his parrot and canary college.

ORIGINAL AMERICAN AUTOMOBILE.

The original of the rather primitive automobile shown in the accompanying illustration is said to have been made in New York 15 years ago by one Richard Dudgeon as the result of a triangular bet. It was exhibited at the Crystal palace, London, but was destroyed in the fire of 1857. According to those who are well informed on the subject, a duplicate of the original was made by the inventor and is now to be seen in New York, where it sometimes speeds up to 30 miles an hour and attracts a great deal of attention.

NOT DEAD YET.

After a recent railway accident one of the victims was carried into a waiting room to wait the attention of the doctors. [illegible] hurrying in. The man lay with his eyes closed, pale and motionless. "I'm afraid that poor fellow's done for," said the surgeon, and he kneeled down and [illegible] "Yes, he's quite dead," he exclaimed as he saw a fixed, expressionless stare; "take him away." But at that moment the sufferer raised the other eyelid and his lips began to move. The surprised surgeon bent low to catch his words, which were as follows: "You idiot, that's my glass eye!"

DOCTORS WITH CURIOUS RECORDS.

In a recent railway accident a resident of Brighton, England, was so shockingly injured that all hope of saving his life was abandoned. The bone of his spine was crushed and splintered so that the least movement would result in the breaking of the spinal cord and instant death. A London surgeon was called down to the Brighton hospital, where the man lay, and proceeded to lay bare the spine and fit over the bone a steel casing. The patient can now walk and ride a bicycle as well as ever.

Even a broken neck has lost its terrors. Walter Duryea, son of a San Francisco millionaire, dived too deep when bathing in the sea and broke the bones of his spine just under the skull. Dr. Abbe of the Roosevelt hospital, New York, performed a most daring operation, pulling out the broken splinters which, by pressing on the spinal marrow, had caused paralysis. He is now almost well again.

The first man who ever dared to go to the root of consumption and cut out the diseased lung was Professor Molle, demonstrator in surgery to the Madrid University hospital. The patient was the wife of Rear Admiral Ferry. Her left lung was in such a state that her case had been pronounced hopeless. The affected lung was laid bare and the diseased portions cleansed with antiseptic solutions and cauterized. The operation was successful.

A Welsh quarryman named Wilkes attempted to pound up some coarse blasting powder in an ordinary coffee mill. The explosion that resulted burned him so shockingly that no one imagined he could survive. Dr. Bailey of Cardiff happened to be at hand and immediately had the man swathed in blankets soaked in picric acid. Wilkes is now very nearly well and able to walk about. He presents rather a peculiar appearance, for his skin is quite yellow from the acid and his hair of a greenish hue.

Artificial noses, ears and eyes are common enough, but probably Dr. Frederick Bradley of Edinburgh is the only surgeon who ever fitted a man with an artificial tongue. A patient called Henderson was accidentally shot through the face. His tongue was injured, and it became necessary to remove it. He got well, but could eat no solid food, as he had no tongue left to pass it back into the esophagus. So an artificial tongue was made of red rubber. Then Dr. Bradley fitted a bar of German silver across Henderson's mouth between two of the back teeth. Around this bar a tube of the same metal was fixed of sufficient size to rotate easily on the bar. The new tongue was arranged on this tube, and the inner end of it placed under the base of the stump of the real tongue. Henderson can now talk and eat with ease and freedom.

When smallpox broke out at Gloucester, England, a few years ago, the doctors of the town vaccinated 400 to 700 people a day. But this record was absolutely smashed by the work of five doctors at the King's County Hospital [illegible] For the Insane. Smallpox broke out one day last November among the inmates, and within 24 hours the medical staff had vaccinated every one of the 2,500 patients.

"It is not so much the brains of paupers, lunatics and criminals that I want as those of great and clever people," says Dr. Wilder, who is the possessor of a wonderful collection of over 700 different human brains. It is the finest private collection in the world, and its owner has added much to medical science by studying it.

For queer prescriptions Dr. Gruby, who died recently in Paris, holds the palm. "You must walk up and down your room after each meal," he said to one stout old lady, "taking just 2,010 steps up and down the room and 550 steps across it." The effort of counting did the patient's stagnant mind as much good as the exercise her body.

LATEST IN CIGARETTES.

The latest invention for smokers is the use of pure gold and silver leaf for cigarette wrappers. A Japanese fiber is used on the outside of the gold or silver leaf to strengthen the wrapper, and when the cigarette is ignited the smoke passes through the virgin metal tube into the smoker's mouth. The metal does not crumble, but holds the ash until smoked up or broken off. The cigarette will not stick to the lips and will not stain the fingers.

A SKETCH BY THE LATE QUEEN VICTORIA.

The portrait presented in the accompanying illustration should be viewed with reverential awe, for it was drawn by no less a personage than Queen Victoria. As to its merits as a work of art there may be diverse opinions, but it is interesting to recall that the baby herewith held up to public gaze was the queen's firstborn, Victoria Adelaide, future empress of Germany and mother of the present kaiser. She is now 60 years old. Such an interval of time has elapsed since the portrait was made that it is difficult to trace any resemblance between the original as she existed then and the present dowager empress of Germany.

THE IRREPRESSIBLE ROCHEFORT.

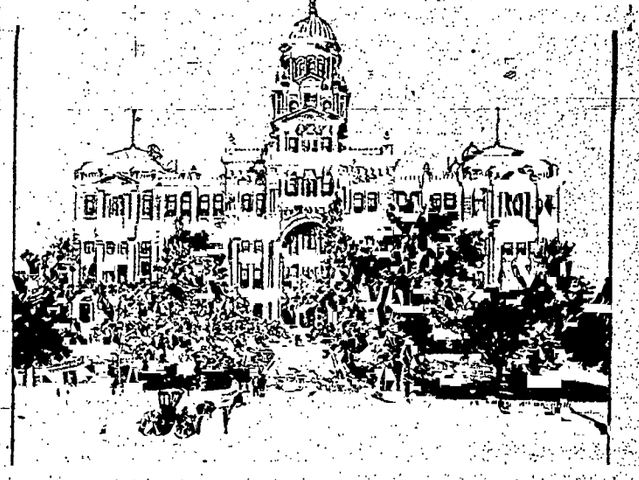
If there is any one man in Paris better known than another, it certainly is M. Rochefort, the revolutionist, who is even now, at more than 70 years of age, eager for new plots and primed for disturbance, so his enemies declare. If his portrait were so well known as his name, there would be hardly an excuse for presenting this, his latest. But, though a man of affairs, ever engaged in some scheme to bring his name before the public, he is still comparatively unknown as an individual to the world outside of Paris. He has been imprisoned by different governments, has had his life threatened by maddened mobs, has been exiled to a solitary island like Dreyfus and welcomed back again with popular acclaim, yet he is not apparently satisfied, and the editorials in his famous L'Intransigeant seem to be written with a pen dipped in vitriol rather than in ink.

SHE WAS QUEEN VICTORIA'S FAVORITE GRANDDAUGHTER.

This portrait of the Princess Aribert was taken after her recent divorce and return to England, where she has definitely decided to take up her residence. As the daughter of the Princess Helena Augusta Victoria, who was married to Prince Frederick Christian of Sleswick-Holstein, she is consequently the late Queen Victoria's granddaughter, with whom she was a great favorite.

She is one of the numerous Princess Louises, was born in 1872 and was married to Prince Aribert of Anhalt in 1891. The marriage proved an unhappy one, and, although it was solemnized at Windsor castle, it has been dissolved recently by a law of the insignificant principality of Anhalt. Thus occurs the strange anomaly of a granddaughter of a queen having been divorced by a petty princelet whose mother-in-law draws a British annuity of $150,000.

THE ARAPAHOE COUNTY COURTHOUSE, DENVER, COLO.



The accompanying illustration appears in evidence to show that the citizens of Denver have apparently some justification for the claim that their public buildings are among the finest of their class in the world. The Arapahoe county courthouse, depicted herewith, is a four story structure built of Colorado limestone. It is commodious and substantial and well adapted to the uses for which it was intended. It represents a cost, with the grounds, of $1,200,000 and is a credit to the section of which the city of Denver is the county seat.

GOLD COIN OUTPUT

January Production the Largest in the History of the Property---Improvement in Damon Ore---New Vein in Horseshoe Claim.

Special to the Gazette.

Cripple Creek, Feb. 12.—The January production from the Gold Coin mine is the largest in the history of that property. The output amounted to 2,400 tons of ore, the grade of which shows a good increase over previous months. This large output, of 112 tons a day, is being maintained chiefly from the 550-foot level while the development work in the 1,000-foot level is very satisfactory to the management. Although the crosscut has not proceeded far enough to catch the main ore bodies of the mine at this depth the showing has already given much encouragement of a good increase of values when the main shoot is reached.

In the 335-foot level of the Damon on the north slope of Ironclad hill the ore in the south drift is showing a marked improvement. The drift has been run for 20 feet on the ore and the values are steadily increasing.

The Bull Hill Consolidated Company has opened a new vein in the Horse Shoe claim on Bull hill. The property is being worked from the Gleason shaft on the Wild Horse at the 500-foot depth. The vein is of much the same character as the Wild Horse shoot and is good for a large tonnage of low grade ore.

In the drift at the 600-foot level in the Baby McKee belonging to the Tamomi company and operated by the Bonanza Leasing company, a good showing is had at present. While a permanent shoot has not been encountered the development work is proving up good ore in bunches. A seven-foot vein is being drifted on and some very good sylvanite ore is being taken out.

The directors of the Diamond R. Co. visited the property on Squaw mountain yesterday, to prepare for the work that is to be done in the future. The development work that has lately been accomplished has proved up a vein from which the company is saving ore for a shipment.

A good strike has been made in the old Raine and Castleman lease on the Jerry Johnson on the north slope of Ironclad hill. Mr. Thatcher, who is operating the block at present, has drifted for a short distance on a three-foot vein which carries good shipping values.

Buechner, Perkins and company, leasing the lower Deadwood have received returns on a 14 ton shipment which netted $2,500 for the company.

THREE PROGRESS LEASES GRANTED

William Weston Gets One Extending to a Point 200 Feet Above the Good Will Tunnel Level---Others On the Surface.

Three leases have just been granted by the Progress Gold Mining company on their Gold King and Tom Gough claims on Gold hill which will insure the thorough development of every block but one of these claims.

One is granted to William Weston, manager of the Good Will tunnel and covers both of the claims, although not any of the surface of either of them. The lease runs to a point 200 feet above the level of the Good Will tunnel, and as far below it as the lessee cares to mine. The lease will run for a term of two years with the usual royalties.

Mr. Weston is familiar with the trend of the Missouri vein, and as it has been understood to cross the Progress property, he will probably work to open the extension of it.

On block 1, which is the east block of the Gold King and Tom Gough, a lease has been granted on practically the same terms to Sheeler and Bernstein who will go to work at once from the surface, prospecting for the Missouri vein, and other known ore bodies.

The third lease has been made out to P. B. Ekland and company, and covers the middle block on the two claims. This will also be worked from the surface.

This leaves the east block still to be leased, but arrangements will probably be made in the near future to cover it. The ground is very favorably located and some very rich ore has been opened in different places on the property, but no deep work has ever been accomplished. The lease of Mr. Weston should do a great deal in developing the property.

The Missouri strike is reported to be looking better than ever before. The upraise has been continued in the ore which now shows high values across about three feet of it. Ore is being saved in the development work, but, so far as is known, no shipment has been sent out.

The trend of the vein as disclosed in the tunnel shows that it extends toward Progress ground, and it is not [illegible] good ore in the latter as well as in Missouri territory.

COLUMBIA IS IN WONDERFUL ORE

In a Very Wide Vein An Upraise Has Been Started Which Shows Values High In the Ounces---More Men Being Employed.

The reports which came down from camp yesterday afternoon from the Cripple Creek Columbia are the most encouraging which have ever been received from the mine. The vein which was encountered a few days ago in the 300-foot level after the return to Columbia ground has now been crosscut though for a distance of over thirteen feet, and the opposite wall has not yet been encountered. This does not mean that the vein will be thirteen feet in width, as the crosscut approached it in an oblique direction, but it does indicate from the angle at which the vein is entered that it will be between eight and nine feet in width, and nearly all of it so far as now opened carries ore which will ship over $100 in gold to the ton.

A well known mining man who is familiar with Beacon hill showings said that in his opinion it was the biggest showing ever made on the hill, and that it was probable that the Pittsburg and El Paso veins had united at this point.

The relation of these two veins at different points between this working at the El Paso shaft shows the veins to be approaching each other, and a junction has been expected.

Yesterday an upraise was started in the ore, and before it had progressed but a short distance, the ore which was knocked down showed exceedingly high values in sylvanite, and is the richest ore ever found in the mine, which has been notorious for its rich pockets; but not until now, for its shoots of ore. Two additional men were put in yesterday and two more go in this morning, breaking down the ore as fast as there is room made for them to work.

It is estimated that there will be almost 1200 feet of the vein in the Columbia ground north of the present workings, and as all shoots in the district as well as the Hill are known to pitch to the north, it is thought that there is a good chance for the Columbia to open a fine ore body for a long distance.

A shipment of 15 tons of ore will leave the property today, and is expected to run about two ounces in gold to the ton. It accumulated from work which was done before the present rich ore was encountered. Another shipment will be sent out in a few days which is expected to run much higher.

SINKING IN THE KIMBERLY

On the Spratt Lease the Shaft Is Being Put Down Steadily---At the Depth of 365 Feet the Bottom is in Rich Ore.

Spratt Brothers, leasing on block 2 of the Lonaconing of the Kimberly company, are now sinking vigorously and have put their shaft to a depth of 365 feet. When they took hold of the lease a few weeks ago, the shaft was 350 feet deep, and the lease stipulated that it should be deepened by 200 feet before the expiration of the year's time which they were given. There is now remaining nine months for them to complete their contract.

The bottom of the shaft is now in ore which averages way up into the ounces in gold to the ton, the character of the rock having increased since the sinking was resumed. At the 320-foot level they have been drifting in some very valuable ore, and saving a good amount for shipment, although they have not really got to work yet in stoping the best ore in sight. They have made two good shipments recently which ran good pay.

Lessee Bentley, operating block 4 of the property, is drifting on two veins at a depth of 275 feet and has a foot of ore in each which will average between four and five ounces in gold. He cut the junction of the two veins some time ago, and has since been drifting on each of them and getting as good ore as there was at the junction.

His crosscut is now progressing toward these veins, at a depth of 325 feet, and the nearer one is expected to be opened in a short time.

The Kimberly is making a very gratifying showing, and when the El Paso levels are run out into the ground from their deep shaft it is probable that the veins will show up even richer than they do now. The Kimberly is located north of the El Paso, and as the ore shoots dip toward the north, a great deal can reasonably be expected from Kimberly ground.

The meetings of Kimberly and El Paso stockholders to ratify the consolidation deal proposed by the directors is to be held on the 25th inst.

NAVAJO CONS. M. CO. FLOATED

The Navajo Consolidated Mining company has just been incorporated in Council Bluffs, Ia., with a capitalization of $20,000 divided into 2,000,000 shares of a par value of one cent each. The incorporators are H. L. West, W. P. Sargeant, H. E. Wray, and these with E. D. Marr and J. L. Middagh comprise the directorate.

These directors met yesterday and chose the following officers: President, H. L. West, vice presidents E. D. Marr, secretary and treasurer, J. L. Middagh.

The property consists of portions of the Mistress, Columbia and San Francisco claims, situated in the shape of a triangle on the south slope of Galena hill, bounded on the east by the Mattie Williams of the Sunshine company, on the north by the Oxford of the Ernestine, and on the south by the Cameron townsite. The group consists of 13½ acres.

The company has ample money to develop the property but will lease two blocks of it at once, and take the matter of doing work on company account under advisement.

On 'change yesterday there was a [illegible] on the stock which has just been floated at 3½ cents.

NIGHTHAWK BUYS MORE GROUND

The Nighthawk Mining company has just purchased additional territory, having sold their Nighthawk and Nightingale claims last year to W. S. Stratton. The company paid out a portion of the proceeds in a dividend, and now has expended a portion of the balance, namely $1,500, in purchasing Rosebud and Beacon hill claims.

The Rosina F. lode claim is located on Rosebud east of the Mary Nevin property. This claim consists of five acres and will be immediately leased to well-known Cripple Creek parties.

The Beacon hill fraction, the Walker lode, is located between the Mabel M. and St. Thomas properties and will get about 50 feet of the Zoe vein. This ground will be developed by the company.

The company also owns 22 acres of ground on Straub mountain, 14 of which are patented.

[illegible] go fully accidents occur in the household, which cause burns, cuts, sprains and bruises. For use in such cases Ballard's Snow Liniment has for many years been the constant favorite family remedy. Price 25 cents and 50 cents. Hedley-Arculatius Drug Co 21 South Tejon Street.

MINING NOTES AROUND TOWN

Sheetz and associates, leasing on the Cameron townsite property of the Dorothy Gold Mining company have started work and will push operations from now on. They intend to sink a shaft to a good depth to open a vein which shows in an old shaft, and also to prospect for the extension of the Sunshine dike which is known to come into the ground from the Ellenor, where the same lessees have opened it. The company will work the Arequa ground. This property is located just west of the Elkton, and an officer of the latter company stated yesterday that it would get about 600 feet of the contact which has been opened on Elkton ground in this neighborhood.

BUTTERFLY-TERRIBLE WILL PAY MORE MONEY.

The dividends of the Butterfly-Terrible company, which were inaugurated last month will not only be continued but the rate will be increased. The first was at the rate of one-half cent per share on the capitalization of 1,500,000, amounting to $7,500 and was paid to cover the quarter beginning with January. The next which will be due in April, will be at the rate of three-quarters of a cent a share, and after that, if the mine continues to be as prosperous as it has been during the past few months, a quarterly rate of one cent per share will be maintained. The mine, which is located near Ophir in the San Juan district, earned a net profit of $5,000 last month, and the latest gold brick from the company's mill has just been received and is worth $2,600.

ELKTON WILL PAY SIX-CENT DIVIDEND IN JUNE.

It is probable that the Elkton company will pay double the present rate beginning with June next. It was hoped last December by the directors that a six-cent dividend instead of the usual three-cent one, could be distributed for the quarter beginning with March, but a series of little delays have kept down the output. Last month 10 days were lost, and it is expected that five days will be lost this month in getting the water out of the shaft; but the output this month is expected to be just as great in proportion as it was last—between 2,300 and 2,500 tons—although these figures are only approximate. Ore is being taken from the fifth and sixth levels as usual, and is of a higher grade than it has been. From the seventh level, the only one worked when the chamber of water was shot into, only development ore was being taken out, but this was rich enough to raise the average of the entire output. The stock was stronger yesterday when the realization became more general that only a dead water body had been encountered.

ANNUAL MEETING OF GREATER GOLD BELT.

The adjourned annual meeting of the stockholders of the Greater Gold Belt company was held yesterday morning, and the following directors were elected: D. V. Donaldson, A. S. Holbrook, Walter C. Frost, John S. Hall and John Wilson. The reports of the secretary and treasurer were submitted to the meeting, and the property was shown to be in a satisfactory condition, and the treasury reserve is about the same which it was a year ago. During the year the company sold the Badger Boy claim to W. S. Stratton for $100,000, and a dividend of $76,156.16 was paid during the summer. The company owns a very extensive acreage in different parts of the Cripple Creek district, but only the Ivanhoe claim on Globe hill is now being worked. Several sets of lessees are working this and have recently met with a little better results than formerly. The stockholders yesterday passed a resolution authorizing the directors to take whatever steps they deemed expedient for the development of the different portions of the company's property. The directors afterwards chose the following officers: D. V. Donaldson, president; A. S. Holbrook, vice president; Walter C. Frost, secretary and treasurer and John S. Hill, assistant secretary. These are the officers who served during the past year.

ELECTRIC HOIST FOR CHALLENGE PROPERTY.

The directors of the Challenge Gold Mining company, owning the J. T. claim on Galena hill, and the Talisman which adjoins the J. T. and was formerly a portion of the Colonial Dames group, have decided to install a 15-horse power electric hoist for the operation of their claims. Favorable surface indications have been obtained on this property, and the company intends to do active work in developing it. The J. T. claim, it will be remembered, was purchased from the Commonwealth property, and the Talisman from the Colonial Dames. In a shallow shaft on the J. T. claim a very high streak of ore was once opened, and it is expected that deep work will reveal a pay shoot.

CONJECTURAL TREND OF THE CALLIE VEIN.

The latest theory of the trend of the apex of the rich vein recently opened in the Ophelia tunnel, and which is substantiated by a careful survey of its dip and trend in the tunnel, is that it will pass through the Callie claim of the Gold Crater company almost parallel with the sideline between the Callie and Morning Glory No. 4 claims. It may cut off a triangular shaped piece of the Little Clara of the Work company, and the Work would also get a good extent of it on the Morning Glory claim, and the Morning Glory will get it on its Little Giant claim. This trend would take it across the Colorado Boss Nos. 1 and 2 of the Cripple Creek Consolidated company for some distance, and as the pitch of the shoot is toward the north, there is a good chance of getting good ore on the "Bosses." The vein is reported from all sources to be an immense one, so far as values are concerned, although it is not so wide as that first cut in this tunnel.

ENCOURAGING SHOWING ON TRANSVAAL PROPERTY.

The showing on the property of the Transvaal company on Galena hill is reported to be very encouraging. Word was received from camp yesterday morning to the effect that in sinking on the dike which also crosses the property of the Leon Consumated company, some very good assays have been obtained at a comparatively shallow depth. The dike in on the contact between the granite and phonolite and the vein which is found is a strong one with well defined walls. The lessees are doing energetic work, and expect to open a shot of pay ore within the next 50 feet of sinking. Work on Galena hill is more active than ever, and while it is so far largely prospective, the general impression of the hill is that the large amount of work it will very likely result in the opening of some pay shoots of ore.

LAST DOLLAR DIVIDEND WILL BE PAID FEBRUARY 21.

The directors of the Last Dollar company have declared a dividend of two

Burlington Route

Habits.

Burlington trains have a "habit" of running on time.

They have a "habit" of being well equipped.

They have a "habit" of giving good service.

Habits are contagious. People who ride on the Burlington acquire the habit of using it in preference to any other line.

Burlington trains leave Denver at 4:00 and 10:00 p. m. for Omaha, Chicago, Kansas City, St. Louis, EVERYWHERE east. Train for Black Hills, Montana and Puget Sound leaves Denver 11:20 p. m.

Tickets at Offices of Connecting Lines.

Denver Office, - - 1039 Seventeenth Street

G. W. VALLERY, General Agent.

BURLINGTON ROUTE. Low Rates to the Northwest.

At a time of year when thousands will take advantage of them, the Burlington route makes sweeping reductions in the price of its Northwest to Montana, Washington, Oregon and British Columbia.

Dates—February 12, 19 and 26.
March 5, 12, 19 and 26.
April 2, 9, 16, 23 and 30.

Rates from Denver are shown below:

To Butte, Helena, Anaconda and Missoula ..... $23 00

To all points on the Northern Pacific Ry. west of Missoula, including Spokane, Seattle, Tacoma, Portland, as well as Vancouver and Victoria, B. C. .... $28.00

To all points on the Spokane Falls and Northern Ry. and the Washington and Columbia River R. R. ..... $25.00

Never has the Pacific northwest been as prosperous as now. Labor is in demand and wages are high. The money making opportunities are beyond number—in mines, lumber, merchandising, farming, fruit raising, fishing, and all the other industries of a great and growing country.

The train to take is the Burlington's Puget Sound Express, which leaves Denver at 11:20 p. m. daily.

Literature on request—free.

G. W. Vallery, Gen'l Agent, Denver.

THE COLORADO SPRINGS MINING STOCK EXCHANGE

Colorado Springs, Feb. 12.—The market today was a big one, with trading very lively among the higher priced stocks. The put call, with the new flotations, was very much in evidence, but it did not enjoy its prosperity at the expense of the other speculations, for the entire list of several stocks were notably strong, and among the prospects stocks there were many instances of decided strength. The market is in a more receptive condition than it has been this year, and the long period of unprecedented activity gives no indications of coming to a close. Indeed, the predictions of the majority of brokers is that it will continue to attract great attention for some time to come, and that prices will continue to advance until they more nearly approach the figures which the condition of Cripple Creek warrants.

The afternoon market was characterized by firmness and good trading. All of the advances scored in the morning were sustained and some further gains were achieved on the second call. Alamo continued strong at 15, and Columbia at 13, while Mariposa advanced to [illegible]. Missouri sold at 17½, and Rose Nicol at 11. Acacia sold again at 22½, Lotta Mountain advanced to 25½, Ernestine went at 4½ and Sedan at 17. In the [illegible] Black Bear, Dorothy, Eleanor, German American and Nerxes were in demand at strong prices. Zoe sold lightly at 27½. Anaconda declined to 43½, but Black Bell jumped into prominence at 13½. Elkton sold as high as $1.85½ but closed at $1.85¾. Golden Cycle sold up to 80, Isabella lost a cent to 82. Pharmacist closed at 12¾. Pinnacle at 17½, and Pointer sold up to 19. Work closed at 21½.

The sales for the day amounted to [illegible] shares, the cash value of which was $165,699.

cents per share on the total capitalization of 1,500,000 shares amounting to $30,000, which will be paid on the 21st inst. to stockholders of record on the 7th. This is the fourth amount of this size which the company has distributed, making the total now $120,000. The dividend was suspended for a few months last year, but as marked an improvement took place in the showing in the mine that the directors felt justified in resuming payments. The mine is located on Bull hill and ships a large quantity of good grade ore every month.

WORK TO BE RESUMED ON ACACIA'S MORNING STAR.

Upon the return of the manager of the Perley Leasing company, T. Bradford from England work will be resumed upon the Morning Star claim of the Acacia company. Although work was in progress when Mr. Bradford left, the lessees decided to wait for his return before undertaking extensive exploration at the 400-foot point. At this depth the extension of the Blanche vein was opened up and since Lessee Glenn on the latter property has been mining such good ore the Bankers people are encouraged.

NEW VEIN FOUND IN BULL HILL CONSOLIDATED.

At a depth of 700 feet in the Horseshoe claim on the Bull Hill Consolidated company an entirely new vein has been opened in a crosscut. The hanging wall has not yet been cut but the extent of ore now showing is enough to warrant the supposition that a new ore body of almost the richness of the Wild Horse shoot has been added to the resources of the mine. As soon as the vein is entirely cut across drifting will be started on it to prove up the values.

BIG SHOOT OPENED ON CAMERON TOWNSITE.

The entire bottom of the shaft which the Elsmere Leasing company is putting down on the Cameron townsite is now in ore of fair grade. Although the working is on the extreme south end of the townsite and more on Bull hill than on Galena hill it is thought that the dike which has been opened on this ground is the same that has been opened on the Sunshine and Sundan. The lessees will go down to a depth of 200 feet before attempting any extensive lateral work.

LEADVILLE

Yesterday afternoon a meeting of the board of directors of the California Gulch Mining company was held and it was decided to offer [illegible] shares of the stock at 15 cents per share.

The following resolution which is self explanatory was passed.

Whereas Funds are necessary to pay the indebtedness of the company.

Resolved That the stock of the company be offered for sale at 15 cents per share until February 15, 1901 at 6 p. m.

Resolved That in case sufficient stock is not sold at that time to defray the expenses that the mine be pulled and the mine shut down.

Manager Newell who is one of the directors stated that the pulling of the [illegible] objecting to the sale of the stock at 15 cents.

The office of the company has been moved to room 4 Emmet block and will be open from 10 to 12 a. m. and from 1 to 3 p. m.

Present owners of the stock will be given the preference in the sale of this [illegible] and it is believed that sufficient funds will be secured within a short allotted time to justify the management in continuing the development work.

The strike reported recently and the favorable outlook for a rich mine being opened at this point make the stock a peculiarly good investment at the price asked, and it would take but a little time to return to the treasury the amount expended which is only about $ 0 000 should a body of rich ore such as has been taken from the Bon Air and Nubian company's properties be encountered.

The sinking of the Bon Air shaft which is under way will naturally reduce the California Gulch company of a big expense that has been necessitated through having to lift so much [illegible] and the completion of the lease and extensive acreage means ample territory and time in which to find the ore and open up a mine.—Miner.

J. B. McDonald with some associates has secured a lease on the deep Carbonate shaft of the Leadville Consolidated Mining company on Carbonate hill. Mr. McDonald will put on a plant of machinery and begin operations at the bottom or 510-foot level. The old Carbonate shaft is one of the old time [illegible] manzas of the camp but has not been worked for ten years. When the lessees quit the proposition at that time they left carbonate ore which can now find a good market. The mine can be operated at a comparatively small expense owing to the absence of water. All of this territory has been drained by the pumping operations in the Leadville basin and the Graham park to the particularly in the latter as the dip is to the east.

A new Gold Belt enterprise will probably be under way in the near future. J. H. Dunn has secured a long time lease on the Mammoth company's ground on Breece hill and is interesting capital in the scheme. The Mammoth company owns the Penn Mammoth and Nancy claims containing nineteen acres which have been idle for many years. This group lies 2500 feet south east of the Rex group and adjoins the Ella and Eclipse both of which are being worked. There is one shaft on the property 225 feet deep which stopped in white porphyry. An examination of the shaft discloses the fact that there is little or no water to contend with. The location is a good one and Mr. Dunn states that he already has assurance that $30,000 or more will be raised to put on a surface equipment and sink the shaft.—Herald Democrat.

Notice of Special Meeting of the Stockholders of The Princess Gold Mining Company, March 2nd, 1901.

Notice is hereby given that a special meeting of the stockholders of The Princess Gold Mining company will be held at the office of the company, 62 Bank block, in the City of Colorado Springs, County of El Paso and State of Colorado, at 2 o'clock p. m., on Saturday, the 2nd day of March, A. D. 1901, for the purpose of considering and ratifying or disaffirming a contract made January 21, 1901, by the board of directors of the company for the sale of all the mining property, real estate, machinery, etc., of the company, except that portion of the Old Hickory lode claim, U. S. survey No. 10262, lying north of the Black Bell lode claim and east of the easterly side line of the Australia lode claim, U. S. survey No. 7888.

By the terms of said contract of sale The Kimberly company has the option (1st) To demand and receive the sum of $250,000.00 in cash for said property, or, (2nd) To receive 600,000 full paid and non-assessable capital stock of the El Paso Consolidated Gold Mining company, after the authorized capital thereof has been increased to 2,000,000 shares of the par value of $1.00 each, and after 500,000 of said shares, full paid and non-assessable, have been placed in the treasury of The El Paso Consolidated Gold Mining company.

Said contract further provides that any stockholder of The Kimberly Gold M

WASHINGTON WEATHER.

Washington, Feb. 12.—Forecast for Colorado: Fair Wednesday and Thursday; variable winds.

See Ashby's Valentine window.

Trunks repaired. Wise, 14 Pike's Peak.

Piano moving a specialty by the Colorado Transfer Co.

ALAMO DANCE Thursday night.

AID SOCIETY—The Ladies Aid society of St. Paul's church will meet on Thursday afternoon with Mrs. Wallace, 16 North Las Animas street.

A. F. and A. M.—Special communication Tejon Lodge 104, A. F. and A. M., this evening for work in the E. A. degree. Visiting brothers invited to attend.

NEW CAR SIGNS—A metropolitan feature of the street railway service that has just made its appearance is the window sign on the interior of the car window, showing the destination of the car.

DIED AT THE HOME. Wm. H. Tobey, a resident of the Printer's home, was buried yesterday. He died on the 10th of pneumonia. He was 70 years of age and has been at the home about two years.

D. OF A. R.—The Zebulon Pike chapter, Daughters of the American Revolution, will meet with Mrs. Eldredge at 18 Willamette avenue, Thursday morning at half past ten o'clock. All visiting daughters will be cordially welcomed.

A PUEBLO BRANCH—G. W. Perkins, the furniture dealer of this city, proposes to start a branch of his business in Pueblo. He has taken a lease on a room adjoining Hoag Jones' store in Pueblo. He was formerly in business in that city.

K. OF P.—Myrtle lodge, No. 34, K. of P., Meets in regular session this evening in their hall third floor Dr. Graff block. All Knights are earnestly requested to be present as important business is to come before the meeting. All visiting Knights are cordially invited to meet with us.

STONE CONTRACT.—The county commissioners went to Denver yesterday to confer with the firm of Greenlee and Sons concerning details of the stone contract for the new El Paso county court house. They will return to Colorado Springs today and will probably stop over at Monument to make an inspection of the dam which has been repaired since the flood excitement of last summer.

A NEW HOME—Another new home is soon to be added to the many which now adorn North Cascade avenue. Henry Leh Wills, the well known real estate man, has decided to erect a handsome home upon the property which he recently acquired at the corner of Cascade and Buena Ventura. The plans for the residence are not yet started but it will be a very substantially constructed and complete home, and will cost approximately $10,000.

SHUTTING OFF WATER—The city treasurer's office is adopting a more stringent policy to enforce the payment of water rents than has ever before been adopted. Notice is being served on all delinquents at the present time that the rents must be paid immediately or water will be shut off. People who are in the habit of letting the payment of water rents go indefinitely are likely to be occasioned some inconvenience very shortly unless they adopt new methods.

MESSAGES AND PAPERS OF THE PRESIDENTS. The agent of "Messages and Papers of the Presidents" has made the following compromise offer to subscribers here to that publication:

"I am authorized to settle with yourself and clients in the dispute over 'Messages and Papers' at $15.00 per set."

The $15.00 is not $15.00 in addition to what has been paid, but $15.00 all told. All subscribers represented by Mr. Campbell will please advise him promptly (at No. 66 Bank block), whether it is desired to compromise on the basis above indicated.

Mr. P. M. Kistler, graduate of Washington Lee Law school, has just become associated with Attorney R. E. Lewis. Mr. Kistler has been practicing for ten years or more. Mr. Lewis has lately made extensive and attractive improvements in his offices in the Postoffice building. New office and library furniture has been added and the rooms newly carpeted and the walls redecorated, making the entire suite decidedly comfortable.

The rehearsals for the amateur theatricals which will be given next Tuesday for the benefit of St. Stephens' church have been most satisfactory. The quaint old gowns and bonnets to be worn in "The Evening With Cranford" will be especially interesting. Many of them have been loaned for the occasion from the treasured heirlooms of some of our oldest families. The plays will be given in Perkins auditorium, Tuesday, February 19 at 8:15 o'clock. The ladies in charge have been most fortunate in securing the help of Mrs. Fish and Miss Leonard of New York, in staging and coaching these productions.

THE OTTUMWA CONCERT

The concert by the Ottumwa Male quartette tomorrow night at the Perkins Fine Arts hall will be one of the musical events of the season in this city. The harmony of their voices the richness and volume of tone, a splendid rendition of the classics and their abundant fun and rich and rollicking humor in two hundred concerts and eight Chautauqua assemblies the past year, have so charmed audiences and critics that there is no hesitancy in promising that no similar company will better please the public this season. The very high commendations from musical critics throughout the country is a guarantee that the Ottumwa Male quartette has no rival. This magnificent organization will be assisted by Miss Addie Chase Smith, a reader who has gained an enviable reputation before the critical audiences of New York and Boston. There are about two hundred more tickets which may be had at Lauterman's. Admission 75 cents.

You Will Know, Too.

By the use of our latest and most scientific tests for the eyes, you will know as well as we when you are fitted properly. We use tests too, whereby we are entirely independent of the usual answers put to the patient, but from the customer's standpoint it is more satisfactory to have an actual demonstration of just how he is going to see with his glasses.

We can show you.

The two defects of vision which call for glasses are shown above.

These two conditions combine to produce other defects and many symptoms.

Were it not for nerve and muscle forces of the eye, every man might select his own glasses but with these ever to evidence, the man who attempts to fit his own eyes or the eyes of others, should have an intimate knowledge of this delicate organ.

Our knowledge of the anatomical eye and many years practical experience in the fitting of glasses, is at your service free of charge.

TO SOFTEN

the Skin and to keep your hands white and smooth you should use Woods' Albina Cream. It is put up in large bottles, ingredients purified, quickly absorbed. As it is not sticky nor greasy, it can be used at any time.

YOUR HANDS

need special care at this season. To dry them hurriedly and then perhaps to go out in the air, is to endanger their softness and whiteness. To use a little Albina Cream every day of wintry weather, is quite as essential as to use soap and water. 25 cents.
